ARKANSAS STATE UNIVERSITY

Campus Life At Creates Memories

For most of us it probably seemed that summer had just begun when suddenly it was mid August and time for school. For some of us it was just another year; for others who would be entering college for the first time there was a feeling of both excitement and fear; still others would travel from distant countries and various cultures to join us at Arkansas State University. Somehow, the old and the new, those from near and far, would unite to form the student body of ASU.

This diversified group known as the student body collectively was none the less made up of individuals. These individuals met together for long lectures, competed together as members of intramural teams, partied together as clubs and social organizations, and finally discovered that an entire year had passed and that the student body as they had known it would soon cease to exist. Only memories would linger in the minds of those who had made them.

Memories can be made at ASU through many organized activities and organizations such as athletics, Greeks, clubs, religious organizations, and student government. This means that students must balance their time between the extracurricular and the academic. The well-rounded students realize the importance of getting involved and taking advantage of all ASU has to offer. It is through campus life and activities that students form new friendships and deepen old ones that possibly will last a lifetime. Campus life at ASU is the element that allows friendships, organizations, and interactions to flourish.

Each student can determine his level of involvement in campus life at ASU. For some it will be a level of involvement that transcends academics, for others involvement will take a backseat to the pursuit of knowledge. Some few may almost balance the two equally. But regardless of the degree to which a student involves himself in campus activities, there is an involvement that binds the entire student body together at ASU - Indian Pride!

Convocation

Increase Opportunities

At the entrance to Olympic Drive, a plaque proudly displays the names of Arkansas State university's Olympic medal winners. The placement of that special marker commemorating the achievement of dreams is especially appropriate, for at the end of Olympic Drive stands another monument to the achievement of dreams - ASU's Convocation Center.

The 18.3 million dollar arena is indeed a focal point of ASU and will serve the city as well as the Midsouth region as a gathering place for educational, cultural, athletic, and convention activities. The Convocation Center has already been put to use for graduation, Ice Capades, and George Strait. Other events included Hank Williams, Jr., and Night Ranger.

The 10,523 seat arena is unique in design. Because of the floating roof structure there are no support columns to obstruct the view of anyone in the audience. There is not a bad seat in the arena.

The Convocation Center is complete with a running track, volleyball and basketball courts. It also has meeting rooms, offices, and dressing facilities.

Not only will the Convocation Center be an asset to the community, but it will greatly enhance opportunities of all ASU students because of the varied activities that it can provide.

Teddy Ruxpin provided spellbinding entertainment for spectators at Ice Capades.

Ice Capades was a spectacular four day, five show event.

Graduation

The commencement exercise held on May 8 at 7:30 p.m. was the first activity held in the Convocation Center. Governor Bill Clinton was the chief speaker to the 635 graduates.

"As the world, as a whole, becomes more and more competitive having an education becomes more and more important," said Clinton. "I know the future determination of our welfare in the world is going to be our education."

Of the 635 graduates, 7 graduated with a specialist degree, 94 with masters, 479 with bachelors, and 55 with associate degrees.

Graduating with honors were Kay Butterfield of Kent, Ohio and Clarissa McClain of Warren. A minimum of 3.5 GPA and a top 10 ranking of students in their respective colleges is required.

Graduating magna cum laude were 24 students. Students graduating cum laude totaled 25.

A reception for the graduates and guests immediately following the ceremony was sponsored by the ASU Alumni Association.

Springfest

Bob Schaffer explains the rules of "Simon Says."

Springfest consisted of a variety of events including a preliminary 5 kilometer fun-run on March 28. The run was open to anyone in an attempt to expand Springfest and include more people from Arkansas State University and the community. Jerald Spencer of Harrisburg won the men's division and Phyllis Bird of Jonesboro won the women's category.

Stacey McBride of El Dorado re-lives her childhood.

Jeniffer East and David Corbett test a new form of relay races.

Eric Scott of Germantown and Donna Carman of Forrest City take a break from the Springfest activities.

Bob Schaffer, "Mr. Simon Says," was master of ceremonies for the most successful event of the day.

The Springfest events on April 1 were held from noon to 1 a.m. Some of these events included frisbee golf, an egg toss, the obstacle course set up by the ROTC, and ooze ball - which is volleyball played in a mud pit. Carnival-type booths were also set up by various community groups. The number of booths was down this year due to the $25 entry fee this year. The winning teams in the intramurals competition included Regulator Guys II, and independant group in Level I and Alpha Phi Alpha fraternity in Level II. These were announced at a dance in the New Pavillion that night.

Chairman of the Springfest committee, Joe Greggory of Piggot, said, "the goal of Springfest is to give everyone on campus a day to have fun in an effort to raise money for a student scholarship." More than $1,000 was raised.

Mr. Simon Says has been a tradition at Springfest for the past years. Bob Schaffer, who has appeared on the "Battle of the Network Stars," was master of ceremonies.

Radio station KASU broadcast live segments throughout the day from outside the Reng Center. Rich Carvell, instructor in radio-television and station manager, said interviews were conducted about every 20 minutes.

Participants in "Simon Says" got their share of exercise.

New Student Beginnings

Each year, approximately three days before classes, new students enter onto the ASU campus. These students are provided valuable ASU experience through New Student Orientation. The three day program has the following specific goals:

- to assist new students in defining their purpose for attending Arkansas State University and developing positive relationships with faculty, staff, and peers.
- to help students understand ASU's expectations of them, and what they can expect from ASU.
- to provide information concerning services available to students.
- to create an atmosphere that minimizes anxiety, promotes positive attitudes, and stimulates a new excitement for learning.

All of these goals are achieved in part by the following activities: ASU's Largest Icebreaker, ASU President's Reception, guided tours, educational sessions, meet the Dean, tips from professors, Greek Life picnic, Organizational Fair, Orientation Festival, reception for minority groups, movies, and a concert.

The Student Government Association plays a significant role by providing over 40 student assistants and the overall responsibility of implementing the program. A total of 15 departments participate in the program. Without the outstanding cooperation of over 100 students, and staff a comprehensive program such as this would not be successful. New Student Orientation is a great way to begin college life at ASU.

Organizational Fair allowed new students to find out what ASU has to offer.

International Students

The enrollment of International Students at Arkansas State is continuing to rise. There is an increasing interest for education at the University as forty-four different countries are represented. The main interest of study includes: Computer and Information Sciences, Business and Management, Business and Office, and Engineering. Though they come for an education, many students learn the different aspects of American culture as do the students of ASU learn of many foreign cultures.

Khairil Othman (Malaysia), Saiful Abdul Manef (Malaysia), Fawed Adil (Pakistan), Clement Oigbokie (Nigeria), and Priyanga De Silva (Sri-Lanka) attended the International Food Festival that is held annually.

Athletics At Arkans

Athletics is an intricate part of Arkansas State. It has brought A-State national recognition by competing against nationally ranked teams, participation in NCAA playoffs, and athletics that have gone to play professional sports or to participate in the Olympics. Also, our new basketball facility has brought a variety of events and a number of new basketball recruits to this area.

With A-State's football and basketball teams in a new conference, the Indians will be playing bigger and better competition, and will need now more than ever that great "Indian Uprising."

This student has his height checked during Wellness Fair.

Several free health screenings were offered, such as the checking of blood pressure.

The Wellness Fair, sponsored by Arkansas State University's Counseling Services and ASU Student Health Services, was held February 22-24 from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m. in the Ballroom of the Carl R. Reng Center. The main objective of the Wellness Fair was to provide accurate information and health screenings to ASU students, faculty, and employees.

Free health screenings for anemia, blood pressure, body fat composition, hearing, and visual checks were some of the activities at the Wellness Fair. Several exhibits such as drinking and driving, mental health, sexuality, world peace, health foods, cancer, nutrition, and stress management were also available.

"Take charge of Your Health," "Exercise: Nuts and Bolts," and "Aids: What You Should Know," were the topics of seminars available. A course in CPR was also offered.

Co-Sponsors in the Wellness Fair were Ambi Athletic Shoes, American Cancer Society, American Heart Association, American Lung Association, Arkansas Department of Health, ASU Clinical Services, ASU College of Nursing & Health Professions, ASU Food Services, ASU Physical Education Department, Baker Health Care Specialties, Baptist Student Union, Brooks Sports Center, Dr. Ronald Burnett, Church of Christ Student Center, Coca-Cola Bottling Company, Crowley's Ridge Development Council, Inc., Diet Center, Inc., Dr. Pepper Bottling Company, Paragould; Enhancements, Greenleaf Center, Dr. George Haynes, George W. Books Put Aside For Afternoon Of Activities

With reports and interviews broadcasted live from outside the Reng Center, KASU filled the airway with excitement and offered listeners a glimpse of what was taking place on the Arkansas State University campus that first day of April, 1987.

Over 1500 students participated in the annual event known as Springfest. Each year students eagerly await to trade an afternoon of classes and academic schedules for fun and the welcoming of spring. This year was no exception as scores of students turned out to try their hand at the greased pig contest, frisbee golf, and the egg toss. Others seemed to just enjoy watching the events and walking around the carnival type booths on the Reng Center parking lot which were set up by various organizations and offered food, souvenirs, and games.

Joe Gregory of Piggott chaired the Springfest Committee comprised of student leaders from various organizations. The Springfest Committee worked extremely hard to insure a successful afternoon.

Since its debut in 1981, Springfest has been known as an annual scholarship fund raiser. Over $1,000 was raised for student scholarships at the 1987 Springfest. To help raise that money, the Springfest Committee put together a day of varied activities especially designed as an effort to reach students who normally do not participate in campus events.

A 5K fun run, held on March 28, was the preliminary event to an afternoon of diverse activities held on April 1. Activities included tug-of-war and ooze ball, for example. Another favorite activity was Simon Says which featured Bob Schaffer, who has appeared on "Battle of the Network Stars," as master of ceremonies.

A challenging obstacle course sponsored by ROTC representatives attracted many students in the intramural competition. A "Play Hog Ball" booth invited students to throw tennis balls at U of A Razorback T-shirts.

A dance at the new pavilion ended the day of events. With the conclusion of the dance, it was obvious the hard work the Springfest Committee put in organizing the day had paid off. Springfest was indeed a success.

Winners Announced

Larry Cox, of St. Louis, won $100 in the greased pig contest sponsored by the Twin Towers Dorm Council. Cox snatched the pig in 0.36 seconds.

At the dance, the day's intramural winners were announced. Winners included: Regulator Guys II, an independent group in Level I; Alpha Phi Alpha fraternity in Level II; Jerald Spenser of Harrisburg, fun run, men's division; and Phyllis Bird of Jonesboro, fun run, women's category.

Wilson Award

Tommy Dillard, of Manila, was the recipient of the 54th annual R. E. Lee Wilson Award. The Wilson Award is the highest honor an undergraduate can receive and is based on citizenship, service, and academics.

Dr. A. J. Langlois, professor of horticulture, chaired the selection committee which consisted of one faculty representative from each college. Dr. Langlois said he wanted to keep emphasis on activities and not necessarily on grades; however, grades are important.

The Wilson Award is named for Robert E. Lee Wilson, one of the first major contributors to Arkansas State College. Mr. Wilson served on the Board of Trustees from 1917 until his death in 1933. His personal interest and impact on the university during the early years helped develop and establish a pattern for excellence.

President's Scholars

Established in 1979, President's Scholars are selected from each college of the university. The scholar in each college is the graduating senior with the highest overall grade point average, with at least a 3.75. Dr. Eugene W. Smith, president of ASU, presented the President's Scholar awards.

The recipients and their respective colleges of the President's Scholar award were Ross Cockburn of Tampa, Florida, Arts and Sciences; Jessica T. White of Marianna, Business; Carol Denise Woods of Little Rock, Communications; Beverly Baldwin Aycock of DeValls Bluff, Education; Lee Petty of Burdette, Engineering, Agriculture and Applied Sciences; Tracey Ann Law of Paragould, Nursing and Health Professions.

Distinguished Service Award recipients were Kimberly A. Anderson of Jonesboro, Lawrence T. Dillard of Manila, Joe Gregory of Piggott, Jeff K. Hankins of Pine Bluff, Mary Allison Shanklin of Piggott, and Laurie Washam of Bryant.

Distinguished Service Awards

Distinguished Service Award recipients are selected by the Honors Awards Committee of the university from nominations by faculty, staff, and students. Honorees, among the university's outstanding citizens, are recognized for their scholarship, contributions to student life and involvement in university activities.

Boyd Wins Title

The tension grew as the final minutes of the Pi Kappa Alpha sponsored 1987 Miss ASU pageant approached. One lucky girl would be named Miss ASU and go on to compete in the Miss Arkansas Pageant.

The finalists were announced: fourth runner-up, Shona Joy of Paragould; third runner-up, Laura Stewart of Jonesboro; second runner-up, Stephanie Stutts of Manila; and first runner-up Lisa Martin of Harrisburg. Then the suspense ended as Angie Boyd of Manila was crowned Miss ASU.

Angie is no stranger to the pageant scene. She was 1986 Miss Northeast Arkansas and participated in the Miss Arkansas Pageant last summer. She was fourth runner-up in the 1984 Miss ASU pageant and was Miss Arkansas Teen USA in 1983. Angie then placed in the top ten at the Miss Teen USA pageant in Florida.

The result of those pageants produced several awards. By winning Miss ASU, Angie added to her list a $300 scholarship and a silver cup. Angie also won the talent competition with a gymnastics routine to a song from the Broadway musical Cats.

Contestants of the pageant and their sponsors were as follows: Joni Hampton of Hickory Ridge, sponsored by Greenleaf Florist and Dr. Dean A. Tyrer; Kelly Lynn Roberson of Helena, sponsored by Alpha Omicron Pi; Laura Lee Stewart of Jonesboro, sponsored by Zeta Tau Alpha; Mary Beth Chambers of Jonesboro, sponsored by Tau Kappa Epsilon; Angela Nanette Boyd of Manila, sponsored by Boyd Turf Farm; Jacquelyn Gail Hosinski of Jonesboro, sponsored by Alpha Gamma Delta; Julie Ann Jones of Blytheville, sponsored by Sigma Chi; Lisa Renee Martin of Harrisburg, sponsored by Phi Mu; Stephanie Suzanne Stutts of Manila, sponsored by Chi Omega; Cindy Lu Childress of Jonesboro, sponsored by The Tanning Shed; Jennifer Lynn Wilson of Bono, sponsored by Lambda Chi Alpha; Stephanie Margo Pierce of Jonesboro, sponsored by Sigma Phi Epsilon; Shona Lynn Joy of Paragould, sponsored by the Baptist Student Union; and Carol Lee Lovelace of Jonesboro, sponsored by Twin Towers Dorm Council.

Helping To Ease The Transition

A senior in high school has the feeling of being on top, of having arrived. But it seems that just as the senior begins to enjoy his exalted position, something happens. Almost overnight he is transformed from the big man on campus to the lowly, inexperienced, much maligned college freshman. That sudden transition can make the beginning of the college experience difficult for some. Freshman Orientation at Arkansas State University is designed to ease that transition, for the next years are most important, and chances are the better start new students have, the easier the coming years will be. The years of study to follow will change and mold students' lives forever. Even though freshmen are on the bottom, it is here that the foundation is laid for the future.

Of course, part of being a freshman is being stared at by upper classmen those first few weeks of school. The basic insecurities of freshmen seem to stand out. However, freshmen possess a quality that is often gradually lost by upper classmen and only a few are able to retain it. This quality is the excitement freshmen feel about the future. Freshmen are travelling the road to becoming whomever they are going to be and anxious to "be someone."

Of course, along the way upper classmen will continue to feel superior but young and inspired, the freshmen go on dreaming, hoping someday to be a lawyer, accountant, teacher, or whatever they desire. For they know they are only limited by how big or little they choose to dream. Maybe somewhere along the way upper classmen will recapture a vision and be reminded of that first year of college and the excitement once felt about the future and thereby dare to dream and experience a new zest for learning.

Mark Belk, SGA president, helps make sure Orientation is a success.

An Introduction To College Life And ASU

Freshman Orientation marks the dawning of a new adventure - college. Each year about three days before the fall semester begins, new students arrive on the Arkansas State University campus. This early arrival for Freshman Orientation helps in-coming freshmen adjust to college life through a series of planned activities. Freshman Orientation also provides information about student services and suggests what is expected from ASU students as well as what students can expect from the university. Freshman Orientation also seeks to promote good relations with faculty, staff, and peers.

In August of 1987, approximately 1200 students arrived at ASU for Freshman Orientation from near and far, a bit nervous with a touch of anxiety, ready to pursue the challenge that was set before them. The three-day event began on Sunday with the ASU President's Reception, tours of the campus, Playfair, and a movie. Meet the Dean and Tips from the Professor made up Monday morning followed by Greek Life Picnic, educational sessions, and a reception. Tuesday's line-up consisted of the Organizational Fair, Getting in the Spirit, Sorority Rush Orientation, and a foreign student reception. The finale of the three-day event was the Concert Under the Big Top Tuesday night.

To make an event like Freshman Orientation successful it takes many people and hard work. Alyce Heeb of Harrisburg played a significant role as chairperson and was coordinator of several events. The Student Government Association assisted her by supporting and implementing the program, along with fifteen departments, over 100 student helpers, and the Student Affairs Office. Together they helped create an informational and positive beginning for freshmen entering ASU.

Welcomes Parents To ASU And Jonesboro

An Indian Days Reception, held at the Holiday Inn and hosted by the Chamber of Commerce Indian Days Committee on September 25, kicked off the second annual three day event known as Indian Days. The event took place September 25-27 and was sponsored by Arkansas State University and the Greater Jonesboro Chamber of Commerce.

The purpose of Indian Days is to encourage families of students to become acquainted with ASU, campus life, and the community. This was accomplished by providing various activities throughout the weekend.

Saturday's line-up consisted of ASU President's Continental Breakfast, hosted by President Smith, ASU Faculty, and ASU Alumni Association, and sponsored by Hays Food Store; ASU Hospitality Room (Information Center), hosted by Goodwill Ambassadors; ASU Walking Tours, hosted by Student Government Association; ASU Open Houses, Jonesboro City Tours, hosted by Jonesboro Women of Today, and sponsored by United Federal Savings & Loan; Jonesboro Merchants' Indian Days Sales, Indian Days Pep Rally, sponsored by Simmons Bank; Indian Parents Bar-B-Que, sponsored by Jonesboro Jaycees; and to top off the day, ASU vs. East Texas State University football game.

Sunday concluded the three-day event with Parent's Day at Jonesboro Churches and Ice Capades at the Convocation Center.

In order to make a weekend of this nature successful, it takes many people. Over 100 community sponsors were involved as well as faculty, students, and community leaders. Members of the Indian Days Committee from ASU were Dr. Rick Stripling, co-chairman; Ruth Hawkins, Tom Trevathan, Dr. Gil Fowler, Tom Manning, Dr. J. Larry Williams, Carroll Albritton, Dr. Dan Hoyt, Bill Templeton, and Mark Belk.

Provides Information About Alcohol

National Collegiate Alcohol Awareness Week was celebrated October 19-21 at Arkansas State University. Sponsored by the Counseling Services and the Office of Student Affairs, the event included an exhibit table in front of the Student Government Association offices in the Carl R. Reng Center. Cynthia Bryant, counselor, said the exhibit provided information about the DWI's, monitoring drinking, drinking while pregnant, and drinking responsibly. Videos were also shown.

Participating in the exhibit table, Bryant said, was Caroline Elkins, Fred Qualls and Lowell Bowden of Crowley's Ridge Development Council; Janie Bosche of Jonesboro Helpline; Captain Bob Smith of the Jonesboro Police Department; and Captain Bobby George of the ASU Department of Public Safety. Stadium cups and buttons were given away at the table.

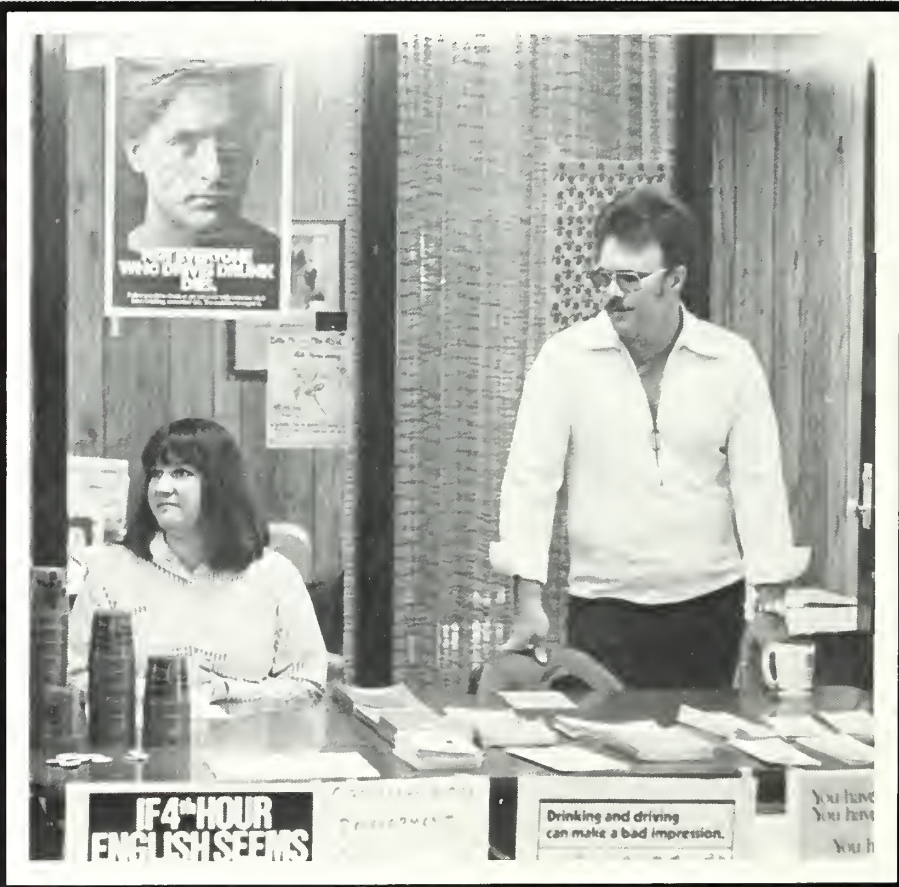

A panel discussion was held Tuesday, October 20. Topics were "Alcohol and the Law," "Physical Effects of Alcohol", and "Psychological and Social Effects of Alcohol."

Panelists for the discussion included Robert Cox, assistant professor of nursing at ASU; Val Price, a Jonesboro attorney; Chuck Bullock, substance abuse treatment supervisor at Greenleaf Center, Inc.; Captain Bob Smith of the Jonesboro Police Department; and Chief Ken Copper, director of public safety at ASU.

The observance concluded Wednesday, October 21, with a non-alcoholic bar in the Reng Center in front of the SGA office. Drink mixes were provided by ASU Food Services and Director Jim Haynes. Guest "bartenders" included Brad Baker, director of housing; Mark Belk, SGA president; Coach Nelson Catalina, head basketball coach; Dean Don Denny, associate dean of students; Jane Hill, Panhellenic president; Randy Hoggard, Interfraternity Council president; Scott Lewis, executive assistant to the president; Dr. Mossie Richmond, vice president for student affairs; Eric Scott, SGA vice president; Dr. Helen Steger, assistant professor of counselor education; Jack Sugg, Instructor in physical education; Wendell Williams, counselor for student support services; and Ivy McGee, NPHC president.

Janie Bosche, Jonesboro Helpline, and a representative of Crowley's Ridge Development Council provided information to students about alcohol.

A Life of 'Firsts'

Only one hundred and ten years ago, a race that was considered slaves has produced what may be one of the most vivid examples of how our nation has responded to the drive of success by its members. This example is Judge Carl B. Stokes.

For Black Americans, Stokes' life has been a series of 'firsts'. He became the subject of international awareness when he was sworn in as Mayor of the City of Cleveland in 1967. This marked the first time a black person had been elected in a predominately white community. Stokes was also the first to be directly elected to all three branches of government — the legislative, the executive, and the judicial.

Adding to his list of firsts, Stokes became the first black Democrat in the history of Ohio to be elected to the Ohio General Assembly. Members of the Assembly, at that time, were elected county-wide and Cuyahoga County's population was only 14% black. Stokes was then re-elected in 1964 and 1966. Today, Stokes remains the only Black person ever to be elected county-wide to Ohio's state legislature, and also a non-judicial position.

Stokes holds several honorary degrees, some of which include University of Cincinnati, Cleveland Marshall Law School, Lincoln University, Boston University, and North Carolina A. & T. University.

He is also registered in Who's Who in the World, Who's Who in American Politics, Who's Who in American Law, Celebrity Register, Men of Achievement, Martindale-Hubbell Law Dictionary, Who's Who in Black America, and numerous other publications and directories listing Black Americans for specific achievements.

Stokes' organizations and affiliations include The Cleveland Council on World Affairs, National League of Cities, President Elect (1970), Advisory Board, U.S. Conference of Mayors, Cleveland, Cuyahoga County and Ohio Bar Associations, and the New York State Bar Association.

In 1970, Stokes was unanimously elected President of the 15,000-member National League of Cities, composed of mayors and city and county officials from across the nation.

Stokes has written several publications including "The Urban Crisis," "Survival of the Nation," and "Promises of Power."

Thanksgiving Dinner

Kicks Off The Holiday Season

For about four years, administrators have been serving the annual Thanksgiving dinner for Arkansas State University students, the Tuesday before Thanksgiving. They assume this responsibility as well as busing tables, or whatever else that needs to be done. This is an opportunity for students to see administrators out of the office and to help encourage good relationships between both groups.

Dr. Linda Parchman was the official cake server for the Thanksgiving dinner.

Bill Fisher, Director of Purchasing, checked students in for dinner.

Dr. Rick Stripling, Assistant Dean of Students, helps serve Thanksgiving dinner to some hungry ASU students.

A Traditional Event

The festive holiday season was officially kicked off with the annual Thanksgiving Dinner. Following that, another tradition at Arkansas State University took place. This was the Christmas Tree Lighting Ceremony. The lighting was held in the Reng Center's Indian Lounge and sponsored by the Union Board.

Dr. Eugene Smith, president of ASU and accompanied by his wife Ann, made the opening remarks for the Christmas Tree Lighting Ceremony.

Santa Claus passed out candy to the people at the ceremony.

Arkansas State University Tribal Tones helped bring in the festive holiday season by singing Christmas carols at the Christmas Tree Lighting Ceremony.

A-State At The Top

Students, faculty, and alumni alike showed their pride and support of Arkansas State University and gathered to once again claim "A-State At The Top." The homecoming celebration took place November 4-7. Many alumni came back to recapture the spirit, renew old friendships, and continue traditions.

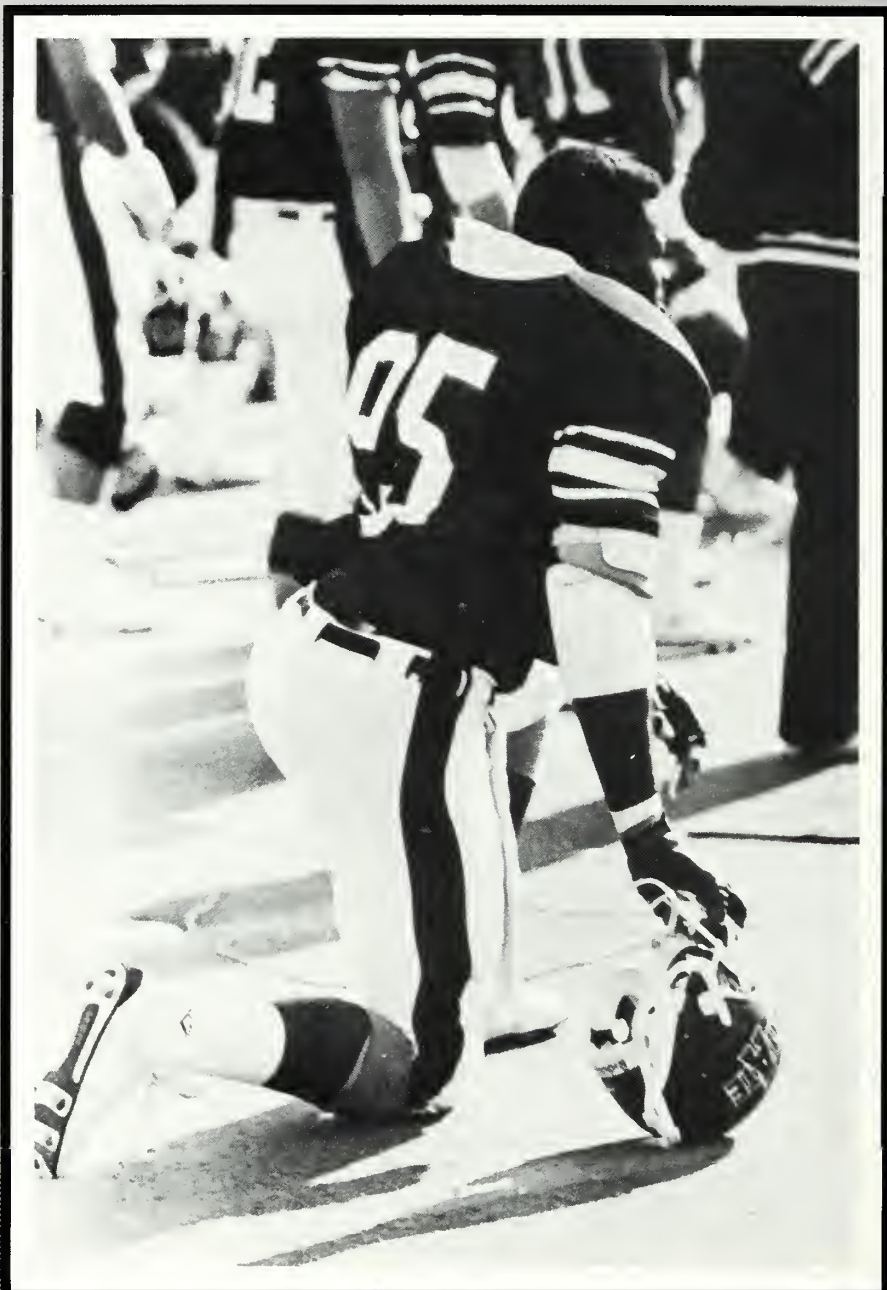

The festivities began with the election of the Homecoming Court and the 1987 Little Mr. and Miss ASU. Alpha Omicron Pi sorority also began selling mums - a 25-year tradition.

Wednesday night, November 4, began the activities with ASU Night at Pizza Inn on Caraway Road. Many students turned out to officially kick off the celebration and enjoy discounts on pizza.

At 6 o'clock p.m. on Friday, the Homecoming Parade rolled down Caraway Road beginning at the Craighead County Fairgrounds and ending at Indian Stadium. Following the parade was a chili supper and a dance at the Armory. Music at the dance was provided by "Rock'R" and "Detail."

Homecoming Day started bright and early with a 4 o'clock to 10 o'clock pancake breakfast at Mack's Restaurant. Following the breakfast was a 5K Run which began behind the Reng Center. Several tailgate parties were held before the game at Indian Stadium. The festivities were officially ended after the Homecoming Dance that night.

Special Homecoming Presentations Are Made

At 12:30 Saturday, the pre-game show began, which included a performance by the Arkansas State University Marching Indian Band, presentation of the colors by the ROTC and the Homecoming Court.

During halftime two distinguished alumni were presented: Dr. Russell D. Harrington and Dr. Robert Blanchard.

Harrington, a 1966 graduate of ASU and a member of Lambda Chi Alpha fraternity, is now president of the Arkansas Baptist Medical System.

One of his greatest honors was achieving the level of Fellow in American College of Healthcare Executives (FACHE). It is the highest professional honor for a person in his field. He is also a board member of the Baptist Medical Systems Foundation, past president of the Arkansas Administrators Forum, a board member of the Quapaw Area Council of Boy Scouts and is involved in numerous other organizations.

Robert Blanchard, a 1951 graduate, was president of Sigma Pi fraternity for half a year and was a member of the Arkansaters which was a leadership organization whose members "tried to be good emissaries with the student body and community," Blanchard said.

Blanchard now lives in Tampa, Florida, which he has called home for the past 25 years. He serves as chairman and chief executive officer of W. R. B. Enterprises which is a holding company for highway equipment dealerships and real estate.

The projects of which Blanchard is most proud include his work with the Greater Tampa Chamber of Commerce, the Florida State Fair authority and as a trustee for the University of Tampa.

Fayeth Williams Crowned 1987 Homecoming Queen

Homecoming Queen Fayeth Williams of Batesville reigned over the Homecoming game after she and her court, along with Little Mr. and Miss ASU, were announced and presented during pre-game festivities. The 1987 Homecoming Court members were Fayeth Williams, queen, Alyce Heeb of Harrisburg, Monica Troillett of Searcy, Becky Bishop of Jonesboro, and Vanessa Roberts of Johannesburg, South Africa, maids. Little Mr. ASU was Matthew Sean Lee, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Lee. Little Miss ASU was Jennifer Renee Hubbard, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Mike Hubbard.

Held In Dallas

Election year brings with it new as well as old faces, speeches, campaigns, and debates. One such debate was held in Dallas, Texas, February 18-20, in preparation for the March 8 primaries, which is known as Super Tuesday.

Eight students from Arkansas State University had an opportunity known to few. They attended the presidential debate. Representing ASU were Eric Scott, Mitzi Langlois, Kathy Desgranges, Mark Belk, Alyce Heeb, Charles Lee, Randy Hoggard and Steve Watkins.

Their departure at 3:00 a.m. one Thursday landed them in Dallas. The debate, which began that night, was held on the campus of Southern Methodist University and began with the Democratic Presidential candidates. The students were in a separate room from the candidates and viewed the debate from a monitor. After the debate, Gary Hart, Rev. Jessie Jackson, Gov. Michael Dukakis, and Sen. Al Gore came and answered questions from the 200 students participating.

A random selected poll of Democratic voters, sponsored by The Dallas Morning News, declared Jackson the winner of the debate, followed by Gore and Hart.

Friday, the Republicans squared off. After the debate, Vice-President George Bush, accompanied by Mrs. Bush, John Tower, and Roger Staubach, addressed the students.

Again The Dallas Morning News took a poll and found Bush to be the winner, followed by Kemp.

The First B.S.A. Musical Production

October began several months of work, when Black Students Association began the thought of producing the first black musical production at Arkansas State University. On February 10-11th, that dream became a reality with The Wiz, which was a part of commemorating Black History Month. Each production played to sell out crowds in the Reng Center Ballroom.

The play was directed by two ASU students, Kimberley Harris and Regina West. Also, to be noted, The Wiz was rehearsed and performed without any administrative, technical or financial assistance.

A major factor contributing to the success of The Wiz was Mrs. Robbie Lyle, director of PASS/Upward Bound Program. Mrs. Lyle served as motivator, sole supporter, and as an access to open closed doors and channels. Mrs. Lyle also assisted in bringing in four students from the drama department to help just before the opening of The Wiz. These students were Phillip Baumgarner, contacts and programs; Kim Thornton, make-up; Emily Bratton, technical director; and Sheila Darby, lighting and sound.

First Production Of The Season

The first production of the 1987-88 Arkansas State University theater season was Brighton Beach Memoirs. Brighton Beach Memoirs is an autobiographical account of Neil Simon's childhood days in Brooklyn, New York. The play is set in 1937, during the Depression, in crowded, lower-class circumstances.

The play revolves around a week in a struggling Jewish household and employs family miseries as the cause for such issues as sibling resentments, parent-child relationships, and hunger in a poverty situation.

Brighton Beach Memoirs was first presented in 1982 and starred Matthew Broderick. Brighton Beach Memoirs was Neil Simon's 20th play to appear on Broadway and the first in a trilogy that includes Biloxi Blues and Broadway Bound, each autobiographical.

The cast at ASU consisted of John R. Rainwater (Eugene), Denise Webb (Blanche), Mary Sparks (Kate), Meco McGehee (Laurie), Shona Joy (Nora), Donnie Keshawarz (Stanley), and Jim Lively (Jack). The play was under the direction of Terry Huckabee, assistant professor of theater and director of drama at ASU.

John R. Rainwater, as Eugene, portrayed the main character in the first theater production of the season, Brighton Beach Memoirs.

Jim Lively, as Jack, portrayed the father.

Meco McGehee, as Laurie, was constantly babied throughout the play.

Donnie Keshawarz, as Stanley, and John R. Rainwater, as Eugene, are involved in another sibling disagreement as Jim Lively, as the father, sits passively reading the newspaper.

Jack (Jim Lively) was a salesman by trade in Birgton Beach Memoirs, an autobiographical account of Neil Simon's childhood.

Shona Joy, as Nora, talks about being in an off Broadway show throughout the show.

ASU Theater Presents A Greek Tragedy

Hippolytus, by Euripides, was presented by the Arkansas State University Theater under the direction of Teresa Mitchell. According to Mitchell, Euripides uses the Greek goddesses Aphrodite, the goddess of love, and Artemis, the goddess of continence, to symbolize the human struggle with emotions and honor. The story is personified by Phaedra who has an overpowering passion for her stepson, Hippolytus, and Theseus the husband/father who is blinded by revenge. All three are destroyed by their sense of honor.

The cast of characters included Regina West, Aphrodite; Donnie Keshwarz, Hippolytus; Angel Roberts, Phaedra; M. Louise Sparks, Nurse; Jim Lively, Theseus; Cassandra M. King, Artemis; Wade Hughes, Messenger; W. Grant Froman, Kevin Hightower, George Forbes, Bob Bidewell, Kristen Harp, Kris Davis, Chorus; Phillip Baumgarner, Jae Bell, Lee Cagle, Servants; Sherri Dees and Joe Bonner, Musicians.

Decision Makers Visit The Campus

Over the past 7 or 8 years, Legislative Weekend has become an important event. Each year Arkansas Legislators are invited to the campus for a weekend. The purpose of Legislative Weekend, according to Dr. Eugene Smith, president of Arkansas State University, is "to invite the decision makers about our budget to see our campus. Most of them don't, in the course of their everyday lives, drive to Jonesboro. They've expressed to us that they welcome the opportunity to see the campus. They have to deal with legislation every legislative session that deals with this campus."

Don Tilton, Vice President for University Relations, serves as coordinator for Legislative Weekend. According to Tilton, "planning involves a broad based group of people, including students, members of administration, from the community at large to the food services and physical plant."

A variety of activities are planned for the legislators and their wives. Events are kept on a low-key type atmosphere which range from social to informative, dinners, gatherings, and relaxation.

Future World Leaders

International students make up a significant part of the student population at Arkansas State University. During the 1987-88 school year, 348 international students were enrolled ASU, a figure up 5% from the 1986-87 school year. Of the number enrolled, 52% are Malaysians and 15% are Saudis.

However, even with such a significant international population, many ASU students do not get to know personally these foreign students. Perhaps we should be reminded that these foreign students are potential world leaders, and it is to our advantage to get to know them.

According to Lawson Lau, author of "The World At Your Doorstep," one-third to one-half of the world's top positions in politics, business, education and the military will be filled in the next 25 years by foreign students attending colleges and universities in the United States.

Many prime ministers and presidents from various countries have studied in the U. S. For example, Jose Napoleon Daurte, El Salvador, studied at Norte Dame and Dr. Hastings Kamuzu Banda, Malawi, attended the University of Chicago and Meharry Medical College in Tennessee.

Mark D. Rentz in Newsweek said, "The strategic possibilities of forging friendships are so beneficial that Richard Berendzen, president of American University in Washington, D. C., has advocated increased governmental support for international education. The 'future leaders of the developing world,' he has said, not only get a diploma in the United States but also gain 'some understanding of our culture ranging from our form of government to our sports, from our TV to our food, from our business life to our spiritual life.' The political benefits are obvious. The next wave of world leaders is here. Influence the world; go out and make a foreign friend."

Highlights Of Your Year

The 1988 Indian Staff would like to dedicate this page to you. Some of you will feel that you were not adequately covered in the yearbook. You are probably right.

This annual serves as a memory book. However, with over 8,000 students on campus it is virtually impossible to capture everyone's memories and activities. All we as a staff can do is hope to hit a few highlights of the year. The rest is now up to you.

My College Days

A New Beginning

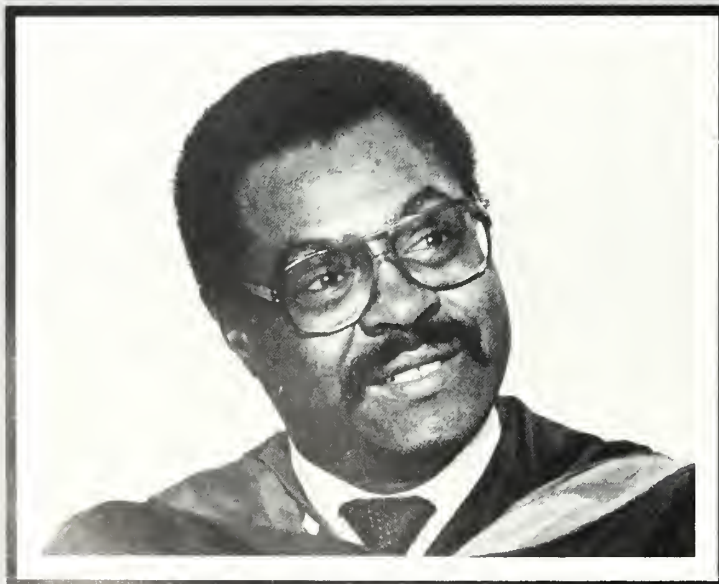

On December 18, 1987, years of study culminated for 372 students as they received their diplomas from Arkansas State University. For many, this marked the end of studying, research, and exams; for others, this graduation exercise served as a stepping stone to higher education and achievement.

Dr. John Churchill, Vice President for Academic Affairs at Hendrix College in Conway, addressed the assembled graduates at ASU's Convocation Center. Then, much to the delight of families and friends, each graduate's name was called as he crossed the stage to receive from President Smith the symbol of his completion of requirements as prescribed by ASU.

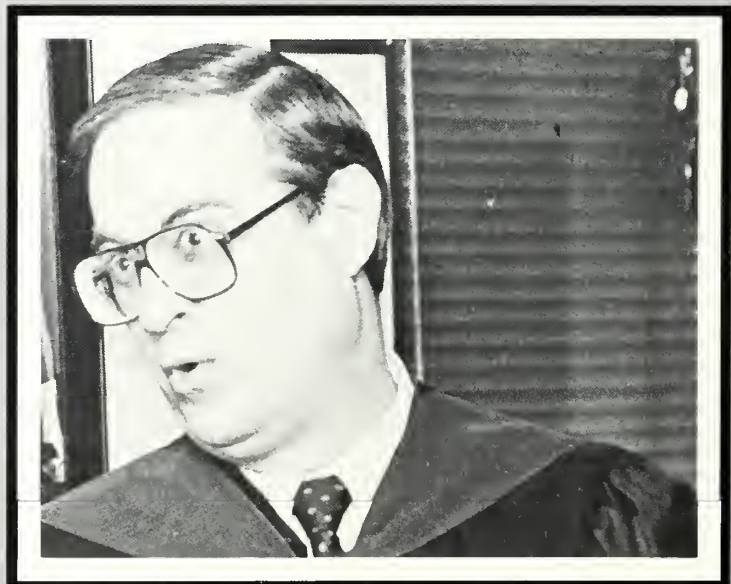

In addition to these usual activities of graduation with the necessary pomp and circumstance, this occasion provides a time of reflective thought for the graduates even as they stand at the brink of a new beginning. Having arrived at ASU much less informed than they are now, they have been introduced to new concepts and differing opinions. As a result, they have broadened their horizons and reevaluated their own beliefs and values. Hopefully, this process of reevaluation has challenged the students to discard some old ideas, gain insight into new innovative concepts, and eventually reaffirm those values that should remain constant. Because of this, the ASU experience will remain a part of the graduates' lives forever.

21 Years Of Success

On March 21, 1987, the Statler Brothers brought 21 years of success into the Arkansas State University field-house. Harold Reid, Phil Balsley, Jimmy Fortune and Don Reid have received numerous honors from the record industry, massive sales from the record-buying public, respect from critics, and an unending loyalty from their long-standing fans.

The Statlers have plenty of memories about their debut in 1965. A young quartet, they were competing for America's attention during the musical explosion of British rock and American soul. They released a single called "Flowers On The Wall," and the country quickly embraced this new group. The song went to #1 country, sold a million copies, and brought the Statlers the first two of their three Grammy Awards.

Since then, the Statler Brothers have had at least two or three hits a year. They have been named Vocal Group Of The Year by Music City News for fifteen years, and have received the same honor from the Country Music Association nine times.

Founding "brothers" Harold Reid, Don Reid and Phil Balsley brought Jimmy Fortune into the group in 1982. The Statlers already respected Fortune's vocal ability and soon learned he was an excellent song writer. His Statlers' hits "Elizabeth" and "My Only Love" both reached Number One on the country charts, and were voted Best Song of the Year by Music City News subscribers in 1985 and 1986. "My Only Love" also earned a National Songwriters Award.

In addition to their consistent popularity, the most sustaining factor throughout the Statlers' long career has been their active participation in community and music industry causes. In 1970, they were the first musical group to organize and star in a fund-raising jambo-ree, which is now an annual concert attended by overflow crowds. Even with television and recording offers to go "national," the yearly Fourth of July event has remained a home town show strictly for their fans. They also chaired the Entertainment Industry Council for the Prevention of Drug Abuse in 1985.

First Rock Concert In Convocation Center

In the middle of their "Big Life" tour, Night Ranger rocked the Arkansas State University campus. Night Ranger performed the first rock concert held in the Convocation Center. The group's production featured 300 computerized light, according to guitarist Jeff Watson, and scheduling included 150 cities as well as Japan, Europe, Australia, and New Zealand.

Night Ranger formed a band in the early 1980's in the San Francisco Bay area but waited two years to get a record contract. "Every record company in America turned us down twice," said bass guitarist Jack Blades.

Their debut album, Dawn Patrol, was released in 1982 on Boardwalk Records, though Camel/MCA Records later took the band and the album and has since sold over one million copies. The group's second album, Midnight Madness, gave the band their first big hit. The LP spent over a year on Billboard's Hot 100 chart, sold 1.8 million copies and produced a Top Five Pop single, "Sister Christian."

ASU Union Board sponsored the October 21st "Big Life" concert. Big Life, the group's fourth album, features the single "Secret of My Success," written for a Michael J. Fox film released earlier this year.

Strait To The Top

One of country music's kings, George Strait, rode into Arkansas State University's Convocation Center to perform a spectacular show to a near capacity crowd.

With his Greatest Hits LP just being certified Platinum by the Recording Industry Association of America for sales in excess of a million units, George Strait is indeed headed Strait for the top. At the same time, the R. I. A. A. declared his first two LPs 1981's Strait Cowboy and 1982's Strait From The Heart have achieved Gold Record status. Each has now sold more than 500,000 copies.

This means seven of the first eight Strait LPs now has a Gold Record award. Only the Christmas LP has not been a million dollar maker.

The ninth release, Ocean Front Property made album history as the first album ever to debut at No. 1 on the Billboard country popularity chart.

George Strait has accumulated several awards. In 1986, Strait won Music City News Male Vocalist of the Year, CMA Male Vocalist of the Year, Billboard Overall Top Artist, and Billboard Top Male Artist. Awards in 1985 include CMA Male Vocalist of the Year, Academy of Country Music Male Vocalist, CMA Album of the Year, Academy of Country Music Album of the Year, to name a few.

Television appearances include CMA Awards Show, Academy of Country Music Awards Show, Entertainment Tonight, This Year on Country Music, Austin City Limits, Hee Haw and Nashville Now.

Hank Williams, Jr., who Billboard magazine calls "unbelievable," took his 1.5 million dollar stage show on the road in 1987. This new stage is complete with a series of ramps and platforms which also house the stage amplifiers and hide them from view. An added extra of the show is a computer controlled intricate lighting system. This entourage requires 34 personnel, two customized Silver Eagle buses, along with three 18-wheel tractor trailers to carry the tons of special equipment.

"This is as state-of-the-art as it gets," says Robert A. Roth, who along with James K. Chapmen and Ian Knight designed the show for Source Point Design, Inc., of Atlanta, Georgia. "Even though Hank is known as a country artist, he also has a wide appeal among the young rock audience as well. What we have actually done is create the first high-tech country-rock show. It's one of the most ambitious projects we've worked on and it's certainly the most ambitious show ever taken on the road by a Nashville-based performer," enthuses Roth, whose numerous credits include The Jackson's "Victory Tour" and Madonna's "Virgin Tour."

Hank, 1987 Country Music Entertainer of the Year, brought his "state-of-the-art" show to Arkansas State University's Convocation Center. Hank has always prided himself on giving fans their money's worth and fans know this. Billboard magazine says, "His fans run from blue collar workers up to the Hollywood in-crowd." And, the fans flocked from all over to form a capacity crowd and as a result produces the first sold-out concert in the Convocation Center.

Hank has been influenced by music since his early years. Music could always be heard at the Williams house where a number of musicians spent much time teaching Hank Jr. musical tricks. Among these were Jerry Lee Lewis, Ray Charles, Brenda Lee, and Johnny Cash. Among Hank Jr.'s personal favorites were Elvis Presley, Ray Charles, and Chubby Checker.

The result of such a musical beginning has helped make Hank the legend he is today.

The past few years have seen Williams accumulate many awards, honors, certifications, and musical relationships. In the past eight years alone, he has won awards from both the Country Music Association and the Academy of Country Music. Hank has also received 11 song writing honors from Broadcast Music, Inc., seven #1 singles and seven #1 albums, 13 R. I. A. A. "gold" certifications for album sales in excess of 500,000 copies and two "platinum" albums for sales in excess of 1,000,000, and recordings with American musical legends Ray Charles, Willie Nelson, John Lee Hooker, Ernest Tubb, and Huey Lewis.

Hank is also no stranger to television appearances. Hank has had several, some of which include The Ed Sullivan Show, The Tonight Show, Good Morning America, David Letterman Show, ABC News, 20/20, Hee Haw, Nashville on The Road, and Entertainment Tonight.

But, the most exciting features of the career of Hank Williams, Jr., lie ahead; at the age of 38, he presides over a vast entertainment empire whose offices are headquartered just a few miles from his residence in Paris, Tennessee. He is still a young man and expects at least another 20 years with his musical skills intact.

And that's a staggering thought - the career milestones Hank Williams, Jr., has already posted are enough to merit his inclusion in the Country Music Hall of Fame, right alongside his father.

Hank Williams, Jr. is an accomplished instrumentalist with almost any stringed instrument, some of which include guitar, banjo, piano, bass and steel guitar, and the harp.

Hank's first professional performance was at the age of eight in Swainsboro, Georgia, where he sang "Lovesick Blues."

Conley Brings Country To A-State

Just in the few short months that the Convocation Center has been in operation, it has proven to be an asset to the community as well as surrounding areas. The Convocation Center has increased economy and helped put Jonesboro on the map.

So far, Arkansas State University has hosted several athletic events, meetings, and special shows in the new arena. Also, some top entertainers in the music industry have performed concerts. One concert was Earl Thomas Conley.

In Memory

Dr. Carl R. Reng, a native of Sioux Rapids, Iowa who served 24 years as the fourth president of Arkansas State University, died at age 77.

He was best known for spearheading the drive in 1967 when the institution succeeded in achieving his dream of university status for what was then known as Arkansas State College. In essence, the change in name recognized his vigorous enthusiasm and effective leadership which had led to a time of unprecedented growth for the institution.

Reng came to ASC in 1951 when the small regional college had an enrollment of only 863 students and the faculty numbered 82. When he retired in 1975, the school had evolved to a major educational institution with over 7,300 students, taught by a faculty of 342 persons.

The university's student center was named in his honor in 1964, a recognition the Board of Trustees granted for his demonstrated leadership and ability in many areas, including expansion of the school's physical plant. At the time of his retirement, the ASU Herald reported that every building on the campus had either been built or renovated during his tenure, including two that were under construction at that time.

Highlighting the list of facilities which were built or at least begun during his tenure were the Dean B. Ellis Library (1963), the Reng Center (1964), the Administration Building, the Fine Arts Center, the Laboratory Sciences Center, Indian Stadium, the Health, Physical Education and Recreation Complex, and four multi-story residence halls. As a result, the value of the physical facilities has increased by over $42 million.

While his record in construction progress was more in the public eye, his academic achievements were just as significant. The number of baccalaureate degree programs more than tripled, from 21 up to 69, while he was president.

A graduate degree program was begun in 1955 and it grew steadily. In 1969, the educational specialist programs were added. The number of faculty members holding the doctorate degree was only 11 at the time he came to Jonesboro in 1951, and had jumped to 166 by the time he retired.

The academic achievements and expansion of facilities were vital to the success of the college's aim for university status. He told a reporter at the time of his retirement, "We tried three times to get university status (twice prior to 1967). We got it after strengthening our faculty and doing our homework with the legislature before they met."

Despite the forces which opposed the move, the legislature was convinced by Reng and his supporters to rename the institution Arkansas State University in recognition of both its vast growth in the past, and the need to expand its educational services to a wider area of Arkansas. The bill was signed by Gov. Winthrop Rockefeller on January 17, 1967, and the change took effect July 1 that year.

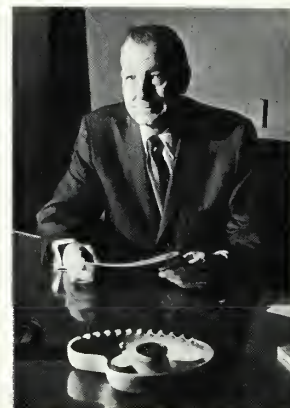

Dr. Reng's tenure at ASU completed a long career in the field of education that began in his native town of Iowa in 1932. After earning a Bachelor of Arts degree from Buena Vista College, he took his first job as principal and coach at Cooper High School. Three years later, he was named superintendent of the Huxley, Iowa, Schools.

Continuing his own education, he completed a master's degree at Drake University in 1940. The same year he assumed the superintendency in Dunlap, Iowa, a position he held until he began four years of service in the Navy in 1943. He left the military as a lieutenant commander in the Naval Reserve.

He went back to college, completing a doctorate in education at the University of Missouri, then came to Arkansas as head of the School Administration Division of the Graduate School at the University of Arkansas in Fayetteville.

From there he was employed by the ASC Board of Trustees, beginning his 24-year tenure in Jonesboro in 1951. During his career with ASU, Dr. Reng was a member of numerous professional and acholastic organizations, including Phi Kappa Phi, Phi Delta Kappa, Kappa Delta Pi and the American Association of School Administrators.

He served on the Southern Regional Education Board, the state Constitutional Revision Study Commission, the Arkansas Council on Economic Education, the Jonesboro Chamber of Commerce, and the Rotary Club. During the 1962-63 year, Dr. Reng served as District Governor of Rotary District 615 and in 1963-64, he served as Rotary Information and Extension Counselor for five Rotary districts.

Dr. Carl R. Reng became President of Arkansas State College in 1951.

This arch marked the entrance to historic Wilson Hall.

Under Reng, Arkansas State College became Arkansas State University in 1967.

Also he was a member of the First United Methodist Church, Jonesboro Elks Lodge 498, the Masonic Lodge, and Shrine. He was a member of the board of directors of Citizens Bank.

Among his many honors, he was listed in the Who's Who editions for America, American Education and the South-Southwest. He received honorary doctorate degrees from Hendrix College in 1965, and from Buena Vista in 1952. He also received medals for distinguished civilian service from the Army.

The Year In Review

An earthquake that measured 6.1 on the Richter scale hit Southern California in October. It was not a catastrophic quake, but the damage was extensive.

Marine Lt. Col. Oliver L. North, was a key official in the plan to finance anti-government rebels in Nicaragua with money from arms sales to Iran. In testimony before the Iran-Contra hearings in Washington, North became somewhat a celebrity.

Miss Michigan, Kaye Lani Rae Rafko, a nurse who shook up the talent competition with a Polynesian dance, was crowned Miss America 1988.

A barge filled with 3,128 tons of garbage became a national joke and a symbol of the nation's worsening problem with solid waste management.

President and Mrs. Reagan greeted Pope John Paul II when he arrived in Miami to begin a nine-city tour of the United States.

The Golden Gate Bridge in San Francisco celebrated its 50th birthday. About 250,000 people jammed onto the bridge for the anniversary walk across the span. Another 500,000 packed the bridge approaches but were denied access because the engineers feared the span could not support the weight.

Two of the top entertainers of the year were Madonna and Whitney Houston.

The Dow Jones industrial stock average dropped 508 points, the largest in history, on Monday, October 19. Some called it a "crash," others called it a "meltdown" and others called it "Black Monday." Whatever it was it stripped $500 billion from the market value of U.S. securities.

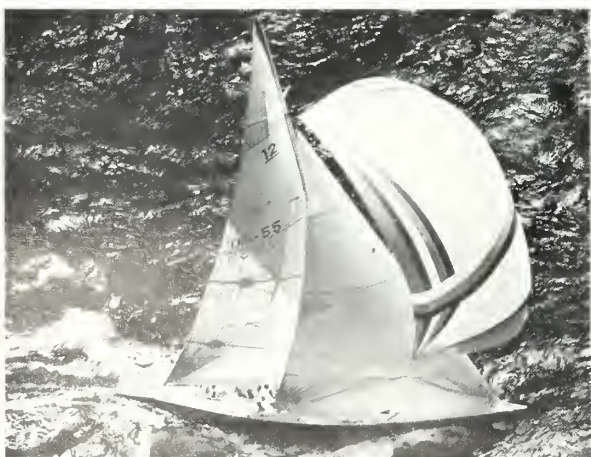

The Year In Review

In an effort to keep the Persian Gulf open to navigation, the United States began in July to escort vessels to protect them from Iran. In September the U.S. Navy blew up an Iranian ship that was caught laying mines in the Gulf. Several mines were confiscated.

Television evangelists Jim and Tammy Faye Bakker said farewell to the PTL ministry in March. Jim Bakker resigned after confessing to a sexual encounter with a young woman. Tammy Bakker bowed out of the broadcasts to undergo treatment for drug dependency.

Dennis Conner, the man who lost the America's Cup in 1983, won it back four years later. The Stars and Stripes completed a 4-0 sweep over Australia's Kookaburra III in the race that took place in Australia.

President Reagan talks with Soviet Leader Mikhail Gorbachev during arrival ceremonies at the White House. The two superpower leaders held a three-day summit meeting in December and signed a nuclear arms control agreement.

A 24-day strike by the NFL players ended in Mid-October when the union capitulated and went to court instead of trying to fight the club owners at the bargaining table.

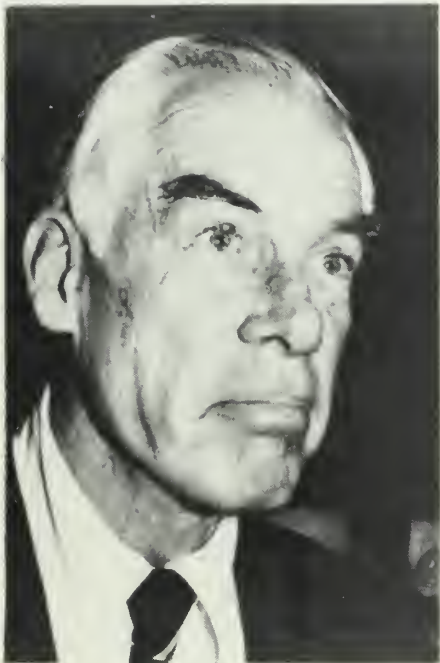

Fred Astaire

Liberace

John Huston

Lee Marvin

Jackie Gleason

Lorne Greene

Fred Astaire, who epitomized Hollywood's elegance for 25 years dancing in top hat and tails with Ginger Rogers and other stars, died of pneumonia in June at the age of 88.

Liberace, the glittering showman and pianist who captivated fans for four decades with an inimitable personal and musical style, died quietly at his home in February at the age of 67.

John Huston, who directed such films as "The Maltese Falcon" and "The Treasure of the Sierra Madre," died in his sleep in August at the age of 81.

Lee Marvin, the gravel-voiced Oscar winner who died in August at the age of 63, was remembered by colleagues as an actor who really was among the good guys even though he often portrayed the hard-as-nails rogue.

Jackie Gleason, the rotund "Great One" who got laughs and riches as a blustering bus driver in the television series "The Honeymooners," died in June at the age of 71.

Lorne Greene, who for 14 years played the firm but gentle father to three sons on television's "Bonanza," died in September at the age of 72.

Who's Who . . . From ASU

WHO'S WHO AMONG STUDENTS IN AMERICAN UNIVERSITIES AND COLLEGES has furthered the aims of higher education by rewarding and recognizing the individual academic excellence on a national level. In late August of each year at the beginning of the fall semester, the Who's Who campus selection committee is formed. Three students, including the chairman of the committee, are appointed by the President of the Student Government Association (SGA). Three administrators are appointed by the Vice President of Student Affairs, and three faculty members are appointed by the President of the Faculty Senate. The committee is composed of nine voting members, with the Vice President of Student Affairs and the Assistant Dean of Students serving as ex-officials.

To be considered for selection to Who's Who Among Students in American Universities and Colleges, students must apply, with application forms being available in the SGA office and in the Office of the Dean of each individual college. Individual committee members review each application and select his/her top 60 candidates. The number of candidates is set by the National Who's Who organization based upon the student headcount population of the participating institution.

The 1987 edition of Who's Who consisted of the names of 60 students, who each received a majority vote of the local committee. Based upon the recommendations from the campus selection committee, the editors of the annual directory have included the names of the 60 students based upon four primary criteria: academic achievement, citizenship and service to the institution and community, leadership in academic and extracurricular activities, and potential for future development. Particular attention in the selection process is solely directed toward the need to have representatives from all colleges and from various ethnic constituents of the University.

All 60 of these young people join an elite group of this country's most outstanding campus leaders selected from more than 1,400 institutions of higher learning in all 50 states, the District of Columbia, and in several foreign nations.

Greek Life

The members of fraternities and sororities learn to balance their life between school work and social functions. This in return will help later in life when they must balance a schedule of even more activities. They have to learn to set priorities on what must be done and what they want to do, therefore learning to budget their time better.

Ester Chu, Zeta Tau Alpha, prepares for her drawing class.

Brad Lewis, Dean Davidson and Kyle Penter, Kappa Alpha, support ASU against Ole Miss.

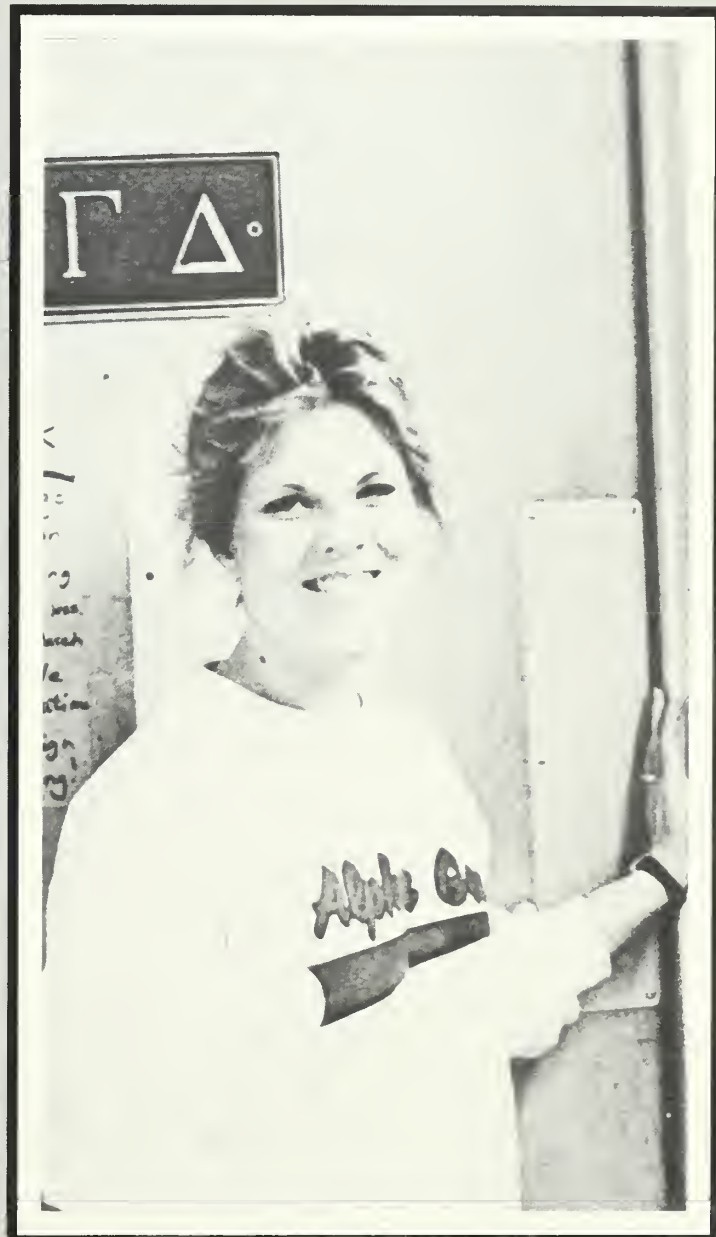

Alan Gentry enjoys the afternoon outside the Tau Kappa Epsilon house.

The ladies of Alpha Omicron Pi cheer the favorite team to victory at the fingerbowl.

The crescents help the men of Lambda Chi Alpha prepare for spring rush.

Julie Jones enters the Alpha Gamma Delta suite at University Hall.

Greek Candids

People all over campus may be found exhibiting their letters to show what fraternity or sorority they belong to. Each fraternity and sorority plan events during the school year either among themselves or with other fraternities and sororities. The ladies of each sorority may be found in their suite or may live in University Hall of Kays Hall. The men of each fraternity either have a suite or a house in which meetings are held.

Ester Chu, Vikki Anhalt, Greg Ozbun, and Sheila Smith at the new Zeta Tau Alpha suite.

Mychelle Kleypas, Niki Russell, and Melanie Lassorde belong to Alpha Omicron Pi and live in University Hall.

Sheila Smith of Zeta Tau Alpha and Tracy Buster of Phi Mu in University Hall.

Mark Ramsey, of Tau Kappy Epsilon, gives Amy Ferguson, of Alpha Gamma Delta, a lift.

Johnny Whitner and his Tau Kappa Epsilon brothers really participate in pep rallies.

The ladies of Chi Omega anxiously wait on the start of fingerbowl activities.

Sigma Phi Epsilon Fite Nite

The men of Sigma Phi Epsilon sponsor the annual event of Fite Nite. The event is sponsored to raise money for St. Jude's Research Hospital.

Each fraternity sponsors a member to compete in Fite Nite. The men are divided up into the different weight categories to provide for more even competition.

Each sorority sponsors a member to compete in "Miss Knockout," which is a beauty and popularity contest. Angela Gaud, Phi Mu, was named "Miss Knockout." The girls walk around the ring holding up a card telling which round it is.

Mike Heggie, Sigma Phi Epsilon, defeats Jack Heston, Sigma Phi Epsilon.

Rodney Elmore, Sigma Phi Epsilon, wears his opponent down.

Lamberth "ties it up" with his opponent.

Tim Jones, Tau Kappa Epsilon, won his division.

The representatives from each sorority inform the crowd of each round in the fight. Shannon Holland, Alpha Omicron Pi, Jennifer Alpe, Chi Omega, Amy Cavenor, Alpha Gamma Delta, Angela Gaud, Phi Mu, and Laura Stewart, Zeta Tau Alpha, were the representatives chosen.

Sigma Chi Derby Days

The men of Sigma Chi fraternity coached the sororities in the Derby Days events. During the week there is a derby snatch and a "Derby Darling" contest. The events include the balloon shave, the balloon bust, the zip and strip, a duck race and a mystery event. The ducks are judged in their costumes.

The mystery event included the sororities' coaches. Each sorority made a cake on their coach's head. For the balloon bust, two girls from each sorority put on overalls and stuffed them with balloons. The girls had to pop each other's balloons without touching them.

Points were totaled for each event and first, second, and third place trophies were presented. AOPi won Derby Days. Also, the winner of the the "Derby Darling" gave the money to the philanthropy of their choice.

Greg Ozbun and Dan Sexton of the Sigma Chi fraternity were emcees for the day's events.

The men of the Theta Chi Chapter of the Sigma Chi fraternity share their brotherhood with the sororities on Derby Day.

Mary Kathryn Pittman and Debbie Grimm of Zeta Tau Alpha enjoy the Derby Days activities.

Alpha Gamma Delta, Alpha Omicron Pi, Chi Omega, Phi Mu, and Zeta Tau Alpha are the sororities that participated in Derby Days. The girls relax at the Sigma Chi house before the events begin.

Laura Maxwell of Alpha Gamma Delta and her coach Don Fowler, in the zip and strip.

AOPi Songfest

The Alpha Omicron Pi sorority strongly supports the National Arthritis Foundation as its international philanthropy. Arthritis is the nation's number one crippling disease. It afflicts over 50,000,000 Americans and about 265,000 Arkansans annually. Research is of prime concern to the foundation because there has been no cause or cure yet discovered. "Songfest" is an annual event sponsored by AOPi to raise money for their worthy cause.

Jeanne Burlie of Phi Mu and Greg Ozbon of Sigma Chi exhibit songs from the Monkeys.

Alpha Gamma Delta, Alpha Tau Omega, and Lambda Chi Alpha in a skit to the Beach Boys "Surfin' USA."

James Mott of Tau Kappa Epsilon and Laura Stewart of Zeta Tau Alpha win AOPi Songfest with a medley of Elvis songs.

ZETA Follies

The ladies of Zeta Tau Alpha raise money for their philanthropy annually with Zeta Follies. National Association for Retarded Children received $700, the Cottage of Hope received $100 and the Children's Colony received $100. Trophies are awarded to the winners. Alpha Gamma Rho won first place with a song about the ASU vs. U of A basketball game.

Joe Massey and Jack Boles of the Alpha Gamma Rho fraternity won Zeta Follies. The two men sang "U of A tradition." Stacy Collin presented them with the trophy.

Darin Beckwith representing Tau Kappa Epsilon in Zeta Follies.

Pat Edwards, David Ezell, and Chris Crye of the Pi Kappa Alpha fraternity competed with "PiKA Blues."

Melanie Carter, Deidre Duan, Stacy Lamb, and Gina Watson of the Phi Mu sorority competed in Zeta Follies with "Beverly Hillbilly Rap."

Chris Ramsey, Bill Wood, Greg Fletcher, Mike Devezier, Greg Corley, and Robbie Ballmen of Tau Kappa Epsilon paid tribute to USA for Africa.

Jeff Wells of Kappa Alpha with his version of "Shout."

Terry Jackson, Tamara Hardesty, Renee Clay, Lisa Ivie, and Stacy Renolds represented the Phi Mu sorority.

Harland Martin of the Sigma Chi fraternity did his version of Madonna's "Material Girl."

Jennifer Matthew, Leah Lamar, and Stephanie Cox of the Alpha Gamma Delta sorority did "If I weren't a student what would I be."

Miss Greek Pledge

The men of Lambda Chi Alpha hold the annual event of Miss Greek Pledge in which pledges of the sororities compete for the title.

The sororities and fraternities sponsor selected pledges in the competition. The proceeds went to the American Cancer Society and The Jackie Morgan Surgery Fund.

Keith Lacewell asked LeeAnn Weston, Alpha Gamma Delta, a question. Lee Ann represented Sigma Chi.

Michelle Weser, Alpha Gamma Delta, Won evening gown competition; Dana Chatham, representing Pi Kappa Alpha, won talent and the title of Miss Greek Pledge; Lee Ann Weston representing Sigma Chi, won costume competition Gina Colbert, Chi Omega, won the swimsuit competition.

Miki Davis, Phi Mu, received second runner-up; Alissa Reynolds, Phi Mu, received first runner-up; Dwana Chatham is Miss Greek Pledge 1987.

Interfraternity Council Championship

As the season came to a close, the men in the interfraternity council battled against each other for the football championship title.

The men of Pi Kappa Alpha defeated the men of Lambda Chi Alpha for the title during this championship game.

Mark Rees, Pi Kappa Alpha, stopped Joe Simpson, Lambda Chi Alpha.

Kent Bridger, Pi Kappa Alpha, "sacks" the Lambda Chi Alpha quarterback.

Phi Mu Mr. Greek Adonis

In 1963, the Phi Mu sorority adopted Project HOPE (Health Opportunity for People Everywhere) as its national philanthropy. Since then, Phi Mu has raised more than $500,000 to help Project HOPE in its work to improve health care in the U.S. and developing countries.

Pledges from the fraternities compete for the title of Mr. Greek Adonis. The men are judged in sportswear, talent and a toga.

Keith Hopkins, of Phi Kappa Alpha, represented Alpha Gamma Delta in a "Rambo dance."

Jeff Ball "rapped" for Tau Kappa Epsilon.

Ken Kruk from Alpha Tau Omega with his version of an L. L. Cool J song.

Jose Feliciano won the title of Mr. Greek Adonis for Sigma Chi. He models his sportswear.

Stephen Tyler, of Sigma Chi, did a hula dance which helped him win first runner-up for Chi Omega.

J. J. Mayo danced to "Pleasure Principle" as Janet Jackson; he finished the song as Madonna. J. J. received second runner up for Sigma Chi.

Pike Lil' Olympics

The money raised in Pike Lil' Olympics goes to the Jackie Morgan Fund. The events include tug-o-war, relay, chariot race, egg throw and pyramid, all of which take place in the mud. First place went to Chi Omega. Also, the Pi Kappa Alpha pledges compete in a beauty contest with a little help from the sororities.

David Johnson of Pi Kappa Alpha models his attire for the competition.

Joe Stewart races through the mud.

Coaches Mark Elmore and Joe Stewart carry Melissa Weser through the mud pit during the relay race.

The Phi Mu sorority break from huddle to start their next play of the game.

The crowd cheers their favorite team to victory.

TKE Men's Fingerbowl

The day of TKE Fingerbowl started with each sorority dressing up a TKE pledge in a toga and a cheerleader outfit. Then, the events started with a parade.

Each sorority competed in other contests. The ladies of Alpha Omicron Pi won the spirit contest, the banner contest, the skit contest, and they raised the most money. The Alpha Gamma Deltas won the window contest.

A plaque was given to each sorority for their participation. People donating money received a plaque from St. Jude's.

The ladies' game matched the Phi Mu's against the Chi Omega's. The men's game consisted of the men of Tau Kappa Epsilon against the men of Pi Kappa Alpha. The men of Pi Kappa Alpha were the victors of the football game.

The TKE's try to block quarterback Tim Sandborn's pass.

Tau Kappa Epsilon breaks huddle with their next play.

Tim Turlington, Pi Kappa Alpha, tries to evade Todd Gibson and Jeff Byars of Tau Kappa Epsilon.

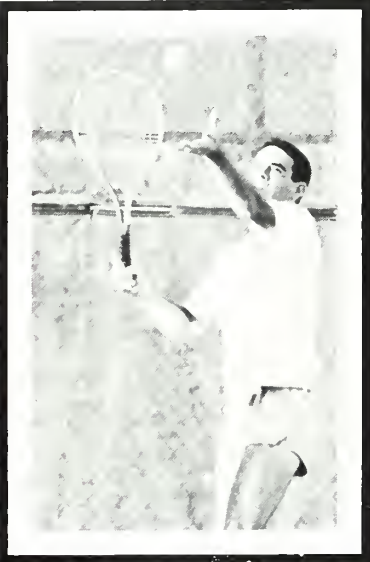

Greek Intramurals

The fraternities and sororities compete in different sports against one another. The sports include: football, volleyball, pickleball, basketball, softball, soccer, bowling, archery, racquetball, badminton, and walleyball.

The idea behind the intramural program is to provide exercise and friendly competition for the fraternities and sororities.

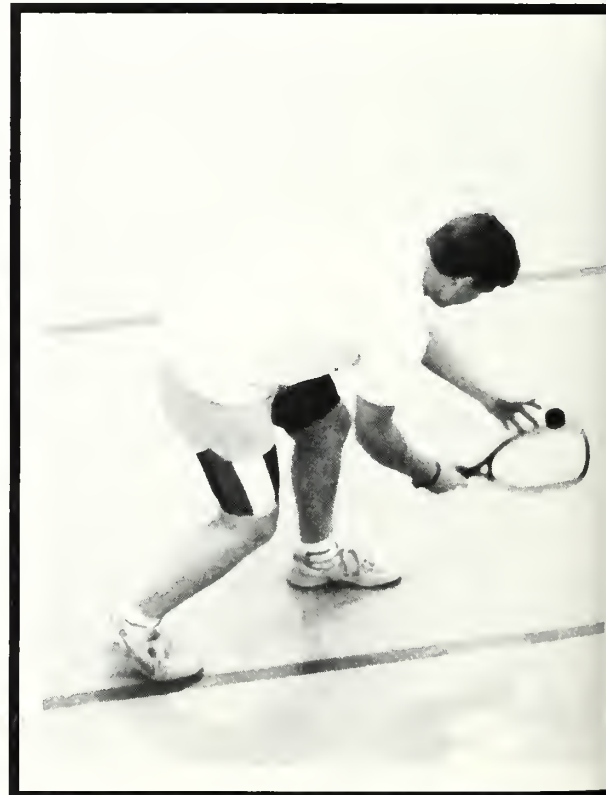

The men of Sigma Phi Epsilon battle the men of Tau Kappa Epsilon on the football field.

Mike Ashford represents the men of Tau Kappa Epsilon on the tennis court.

Lee Ann Edmonson, Michelle Holmes and Tammy Donner play basketball for Alpha Gamma Delta.

Racquetball is a sport enjoyed by fraternities and sororities.

J. J. Mayo, Sigma Chi, concentrates on the shot.

The men of Tau Kappa Epsilon enjoy a game of volleyball outside their house.

The fraternities compete against each other in soccer games.

The ladies of Zeta Tau Alpha won bowling this year.

Greek Composites

The Greek system at Arkansas State University is governed by three different councils. The councils are made of members of the different fraternities and sororities.

The Interfraternity Council is the local governing council for fraternity chapters at ASU whose national organizations are members of the National Interfraternity Conference, Inc. Its purpose is to develop and maintain a close cooperative partnership between its member fraternities at all levels of the university, and to protect the general welfare of the Greek systems at ASU. There are nine IFC members at ASU.

The Panhellenic Council is the local governing body for the five National Panhellenic sorority chapters on campus. It is responsible for local Panhellenic operations in accord with the NPC unanimous agreements, policies and procedures. Its purpose is to maintain on a high plane fraternity life and interfraternity relations within the university.

The National Panhellenic Council of ASU is currently composed of seven national Greek sororities and/or fraternities at ASU. It promotes interaction through joint meetings and other means for the exchange of information. The council also engages in cooperative educational programs, activities, community services, and serves as the united voice for the historically black Greek organizations on campus.

GREEKS

Alpha Gamma Delta

Alpha Gamma Delta was founded May 30, 1904 at Syracuse University, Syracuse, New York. Their colors are red, green and buff. The flowers are red and buff roses. Their mascot is the squirrel.

Zeta Tau Alpha

Zeta Tau Alpha was founded October 15, 1898 at Longwood College, Farmville, Virginia. The colors are steel gray and turquoise blue. The flower is a white violet. Their mascot is the bunny.

The Zeta Omicron chapter, was founded at Arkansas State University May 12, 1968. Zeta Omicron celebrated its twentieth year by moving into their new suite at University Hall.

Since 1928 Zeta has worked in and contributed funds for health services. More recently, from 1947 to 1970, aid was given to the cerebral palsied in cooperation with the National Easter Seal Society. Since 1970, Zeta has worked with the Association for Retarded Citizens, providing handbooks, films and other informational materials as guidelines for parents and teachers working with the handicapped. The Zeta Tau Alpha Crown Development Trust Fund, Inc., administers a scholarship loan fund, a matching grant scholarship program; nine Founders' grants for graduate students; and numerous other grants available to members and non-members.

Alpha Phi Alpha

The Alpha Phi Alpha fraternity was founded December 4, 1905 at Cornell University in Ithaca, New York. The Theta Epsilon chapter at Arkansas State University represents the largest in the state.

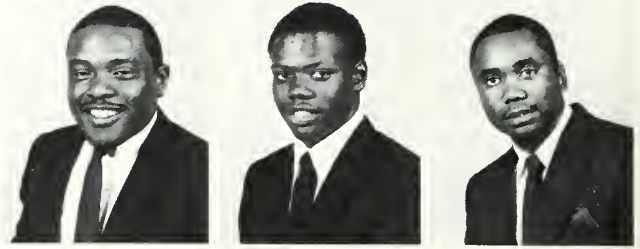

Theta Epsilon is aided in its struggle to serve the community by their Little Sis organization, the Alpha Roses. They have helped organizations such as the March of Dimes, and helped sponsor a haunted house at the E. Boone Watson Community Center and raised funds for the needy during Thanksgiving and Christmas.

Lambda Chi Alpha

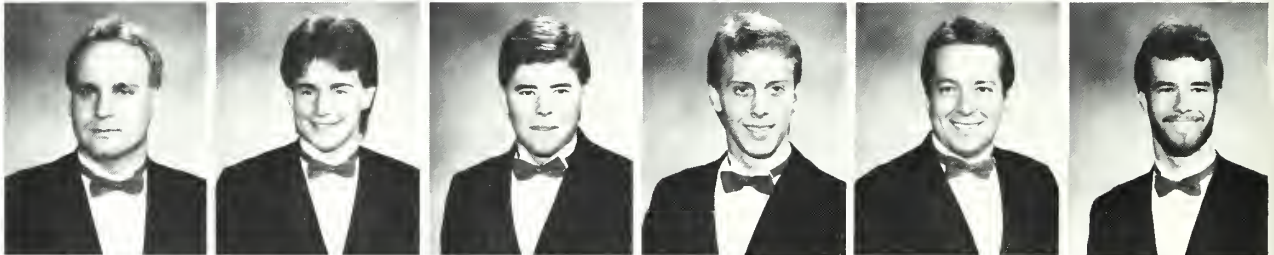

The Iota Theta chapter of Lambda Chi Alpha was installed in 1959. The chapter maintains its own chapter house that was built in 1986. Lambda Chi Alpha is active in all major ASU activities. The chapter performs several charity projects throughout the year. The Miss Greek Pledge Contest is one project that the chapter sponsors.

Lambda Chi Alpha was founded at Boston in 1909. Currently, the fraternity has more than 220 chapters throughout the United States and Canada. Lambda Chi Alpha is the third largest national fraternity with over 182,000 members.

Pi Kappa Alpha

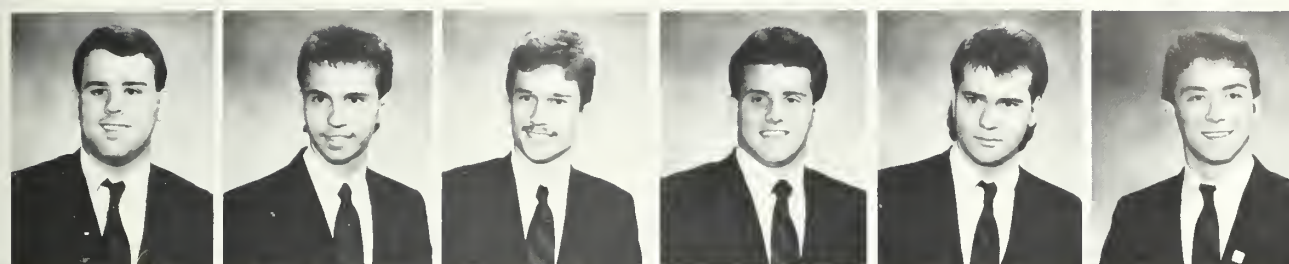

Pi Kappa Alpha was founded March 1, 1868 at the University of Virginia. The Delta Theta chapter was founded at Arkansas State University on March 13, 1948.

This chapter sponsors Miss ASU and Pike Lil' Olympics to raise money for their philanthropy. Lil' Olympics raised $2100.00 for the Jackie Morgan Fund which was the largest single contribution to the fund.

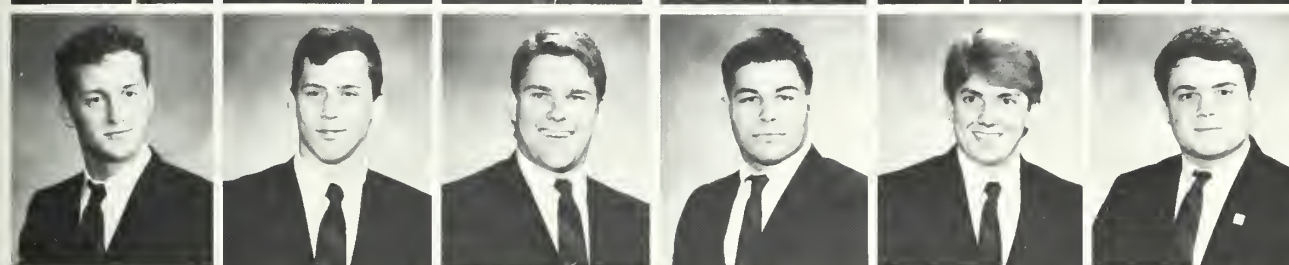

The Delta Theta chapter is a seven time winner of Pi Kappa Alpha's highest award, Robert Adger Smythe Award. Only ten "Pike" chapters in the nation receive this award each year. Only two other "Pike" chapters have won the Smythe Award more than Delta Theta.

Sigma Chi

The Theta Chi chapter, the 197th chapter of the International Fraternity of Sigma Chi, was founded at Arkansas State on January 10, 1987. Not even a year old yet, the Sigma Chi chapter has grown from 23 members and pledges to a strong 40 members and pledges.

The Theta Chi chapter has many philanthropic services which include their local philanthropy, the Arkansas Childrens Hospital. In addition to this they help out the Lion's Club with its White Cane week. Their national philanthropies are the Center for Missing and Exploited Children and the Cleo Wallace Center, a home for minimum brain damaged children. Along with these philanthropies, they also participate in campus organizations, intramurals, and other Greek functions.

Sigma Pi

On February 26, 1897 Tau Phi Delta was founded at Vincennes, Indiana. On February 11, 1907 the name was changed to Alpha chapter of Sigma Pi fraternity. The Alpha Pi chapter of Sigma Pi received their charter on March 7, 1948 which made the first nationally chartered fraternity on this campus. In March of 1988 Sigma Pi was the first to celebrate its 40th anniversary at Arkansas State.

The Alpha Pi chapter of Sigma Pi here at Arkansas State recognizes their national philanthropy, MS, and also several local ones such as White Cane Day, March of Dimes Walkathon, and ringing bells with the Salvation Army.

Head Coach Larry Lacewell

Head Coach Larry Lacewell took his first step on a long road to division 1-A football this year by going to independent status. Some might think that this could have been a big obstacle, but what about losing thirteen starters, seven of which were all-Southland Conference players last year. Coach Lacewell faced a long season with a young team but pulled off a great year with determination and just raw talent. The Indians left the Southland Conference in which it had been a member for 24 years with qualifications for the National Championship Play-offs the past three. Lacewell's team had an impressive 8-4-1 record this 1987 season.

A-State Finishes 2nd

The Arkansas State Indians had a fine season in 1987. With an overall record of 8-4-1, the Indians went farther than expected with such a young team.

A-State got off to a slow start this year with an agonizing defeat to Northwest Louisiana 20-23. The Indians jumped back with a win over Mississippi College 35-0 but got stomped the next weekend by the Ole Miss Rebels 47-10. This loss apparently pumped A-State up because they squashed East Texas State 77-22. The Indians shut McNeese off 17-0 and romped over Louisiana Tech 37-3. Southern Illinois, the Salukis, didn't get away from the Indian massacre either. They were scalped 33-9. Memphis State halted a four game winning streak with a 21-21 tie. Both teams had a chance to claim the win in the final minutes but neither could pull it off. On Homecoming the North Texas State Eagles gave ASU a run for their money but A-State pulled off the win 27-20. The Indians went down to Lamar and outscored them 24-20. ASU had a chance to share the conference title with Northeast Louisiana but blew a 21 point lead and lost 31-21. This left the Indians with a 7-3-1 record and some hope for a bid to the NCAA play-offs. Hope became reality when the Indians were set to play Jackson State in the first round of play.

ASU beat them 35-32. In the second round Northern Iowa beat A-State 39-28.

Greg Lee, a cornerback from Pine Bluff, takes an Ole Miss opponent down with one arm.

A-State Gets Off To Slow Start

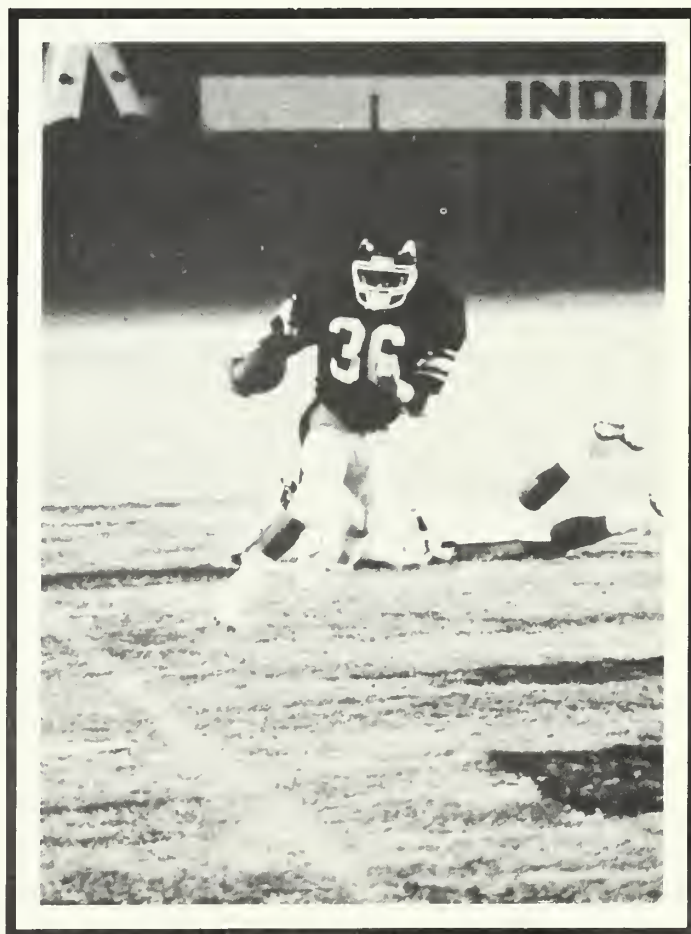

A-State gets fired up before the game.

Todd Horton (#9) almost loses his jersey in an Ole Miss game.

A-State and North Texas seem to be playing "twister".

Junior Andre Tate breaks free down field.

Turnovers Kill ASU

A-State didn't expect such a large deficit going down to Oxford, Mississippi, Sept. 19, but a large deficit is exactly what they got. The Ole Miss Rebels rolled over ASU 47-10. It didn't ease matters much when the Indians helped the Rebels score 17 points with three fumbles, on our end of the field.

Thanks to a 14 play, 61 yard drive at the end of the first half that cut the deficit to 27-7, A-State had one last chance to make a game of it. The Indians just couldn't make it happen. ASU's passing game got nowhere against the Ole Miss defense that returned nine starters from last year.

It was ASU's worst defeat since the 45-7 loss to Northeast Louisiana in 1983.

Memphis State And ASU Finish

With A Tie

The ASU Indians battled the Memphis State Tigers to a 21-21 tie Halloween night. ASU had a chance to win with a 47-yard field goal attempt by Scott Roper in the last 18 seconds but it fell short into the MSU end zone.

A-State rallied in the final minutes with the help of a 72-yard drive by quarterback Dwane Brown and a score by John Chism on a 9-yard run.

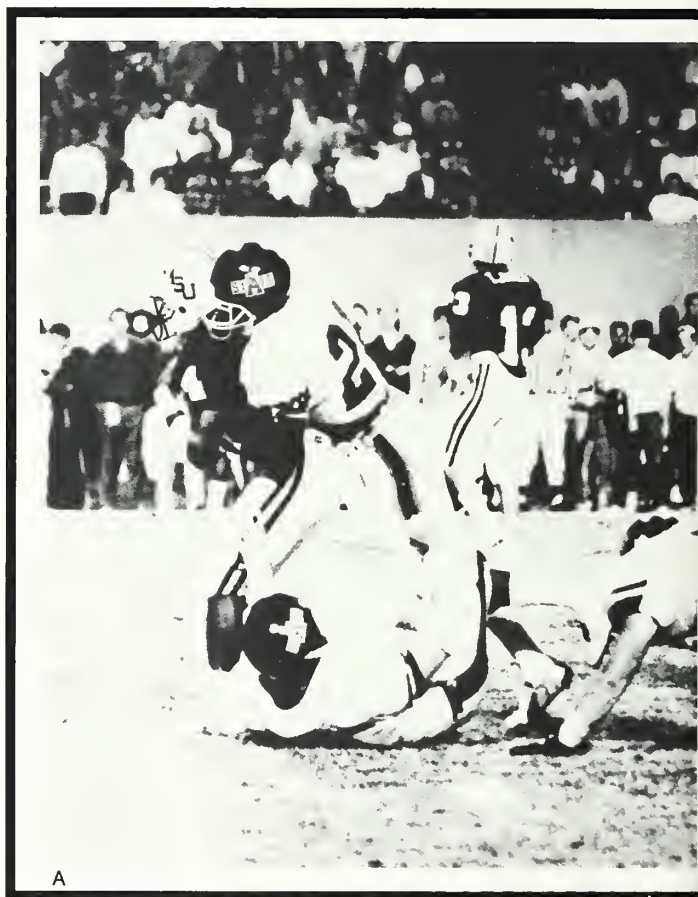

A-States defense did a good job in denying Memphis State on two possessions inside the 5 and again held in the final minutes when linebacker Foot Daley sacked MSU quarterback Tim Jones on the fourth down with one-half yard to go.

ASU defeated MSU last year 30-10 and tied the Tigers in 1983 14-14.

C

Talent — Pulls A-State Through First Year As Independents

A-State had a very successful record of 7-3-1 going into the NCAA play-offs. The Indians almost came away with a win in their last game with Northeast Louisiana when they had a 21-0 lead in the first half but gave it up with a 31-21 loss. Northeast went on to win the National Championship. A-State was beaten in the second round of play by Northern Iowa.

Charlie Fredrick Named Kodak All-American

Charlie Fredrick (#70) plays noseguard for the ASU Indians and has been named to the Kodak All-American team. A senior from Rogers, Fredrick was AP Honorable Mention, All-American, and All-Southland conference last year. The All-American is married and is a father.

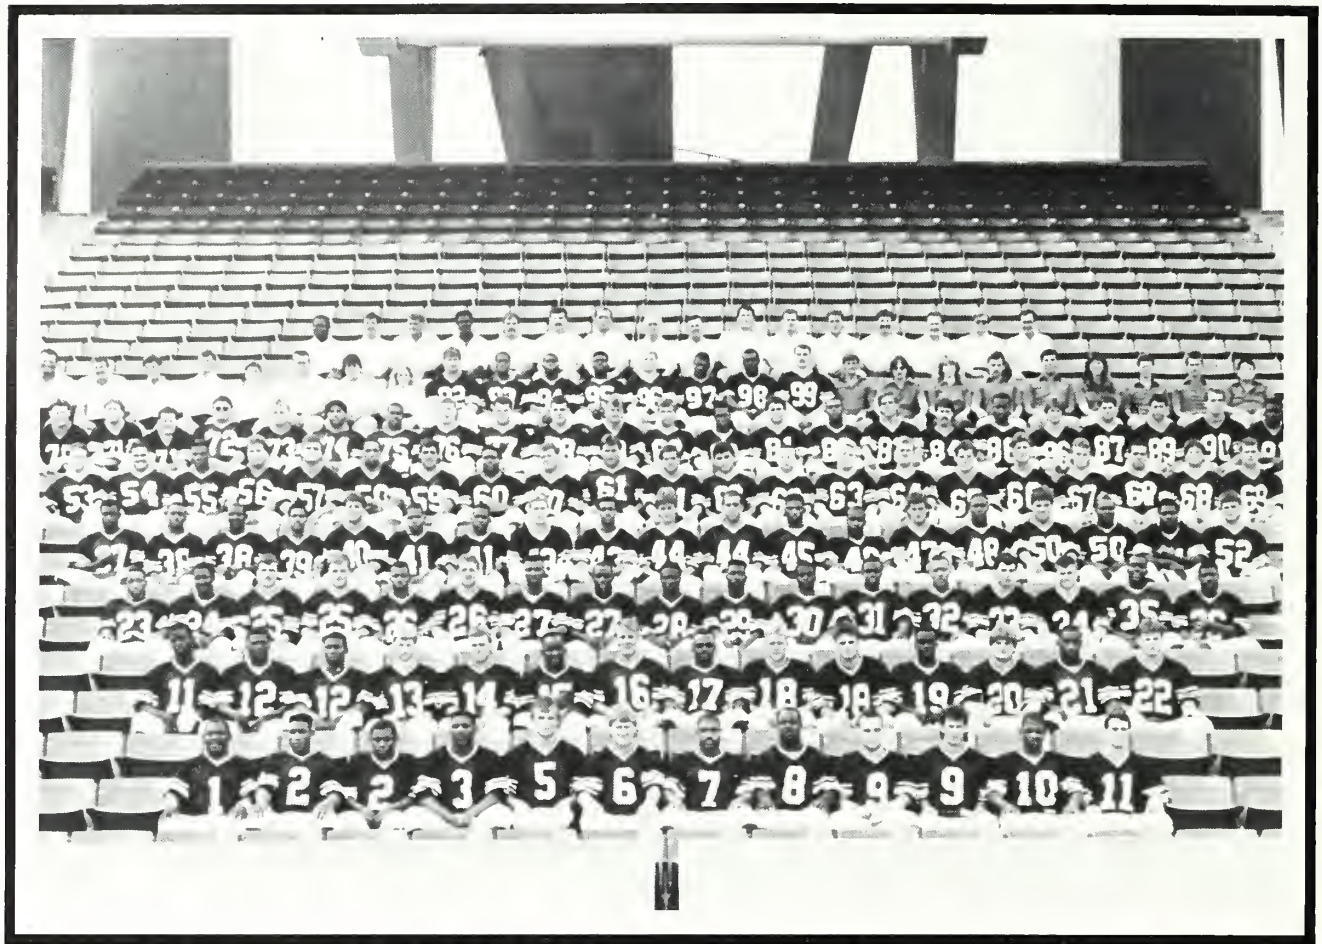

Dwane Brown gets the pass off safely behind the block of offensive guard Tony Walton.

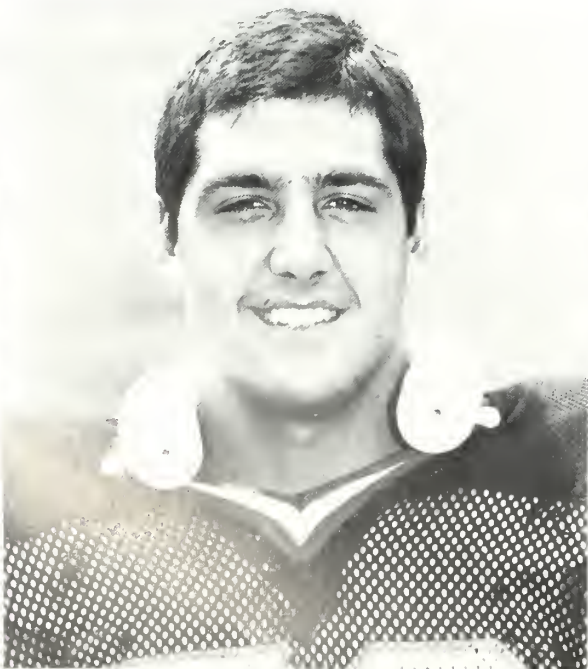

Ron Hillers, defensive end, successfully sacks the Ole Miss quarterback.

Reflections Of Another

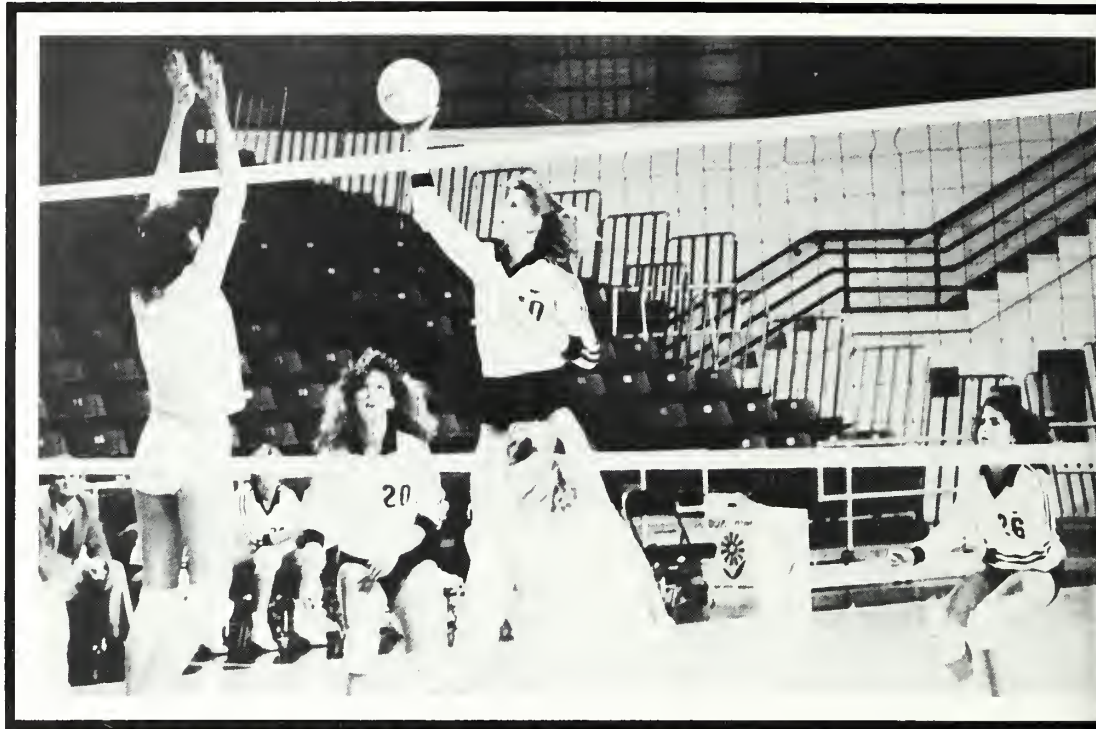

Successful Season

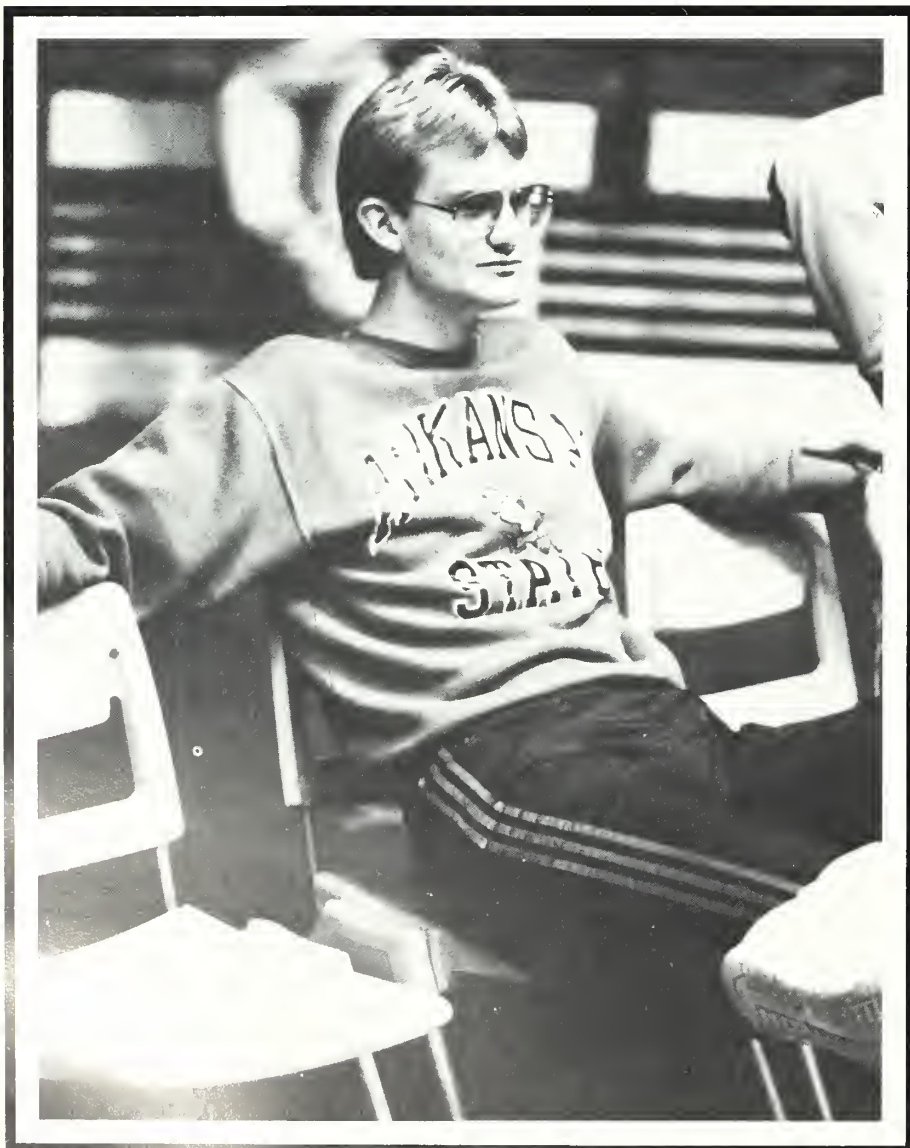

Lady Indian Volleyball

First year head coach Chris Poole had his work cut out for him as he inherited a program with six newcomers and a schedule that included 26 of 32 matches on the road. The team finished the season with an 8-24 record. The Lady Tribe non-conference schedule included the likes of Ole Miss, Baylor, Oklahoma, Wichita State, Alabama - Birmingham and Eastern Illinois.

On a bit more positive note, ASU wound up 4-2 in American South Conference play and in third place behind Lamar and New Orleans. Hitters Missy Welch of Kilgore, Texas and Pat Clark of Essex, Missouri were named to the ASC All-Conference team at the end of the season.

Karen Toth had only 4 service errors in 101 games. Here, she plays her abilities on the front line.

NIT

N.E. LOUISIANA

Arkansas State University received for the second straight year a bid to the National Invitational Tournament (NIT). Most thought ASU didn't have a chance for a bid, but hope prevailed. The Indians along with the UALR Trojans were asked to participate. (UALR was ousted in the first round.) ASU beat N.E. Louisiana 70-59 and went on to beat Stanford 60-59 (Anonymous State - I think not!) A - State was beaten in the third round by Colorado State 64-49. The Indians ended their season with an impressive 21-14 record.

ASU Track

Arkansas State University's men's track team has grown stronger, through the years. In May 1987 ASU held an open track meet. Andrew Elgin won the 100-meter dash and 200-meter dash. Steve Armstrong took second in the 400-meter and Darren Moore got third in the 400-meter and 200-meter. Craig Hagan and Scott Shaffer won second and first respectively in the pole vault.

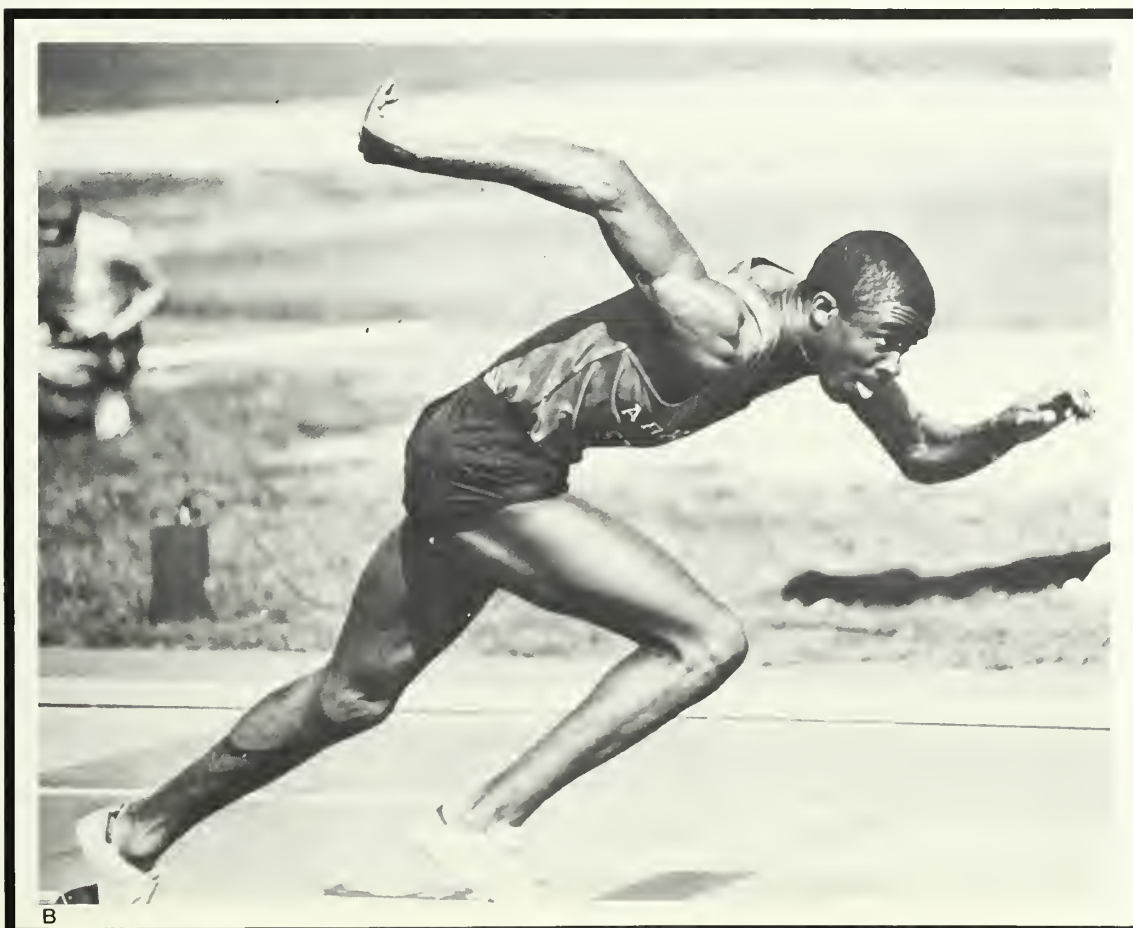

The Convocation Center will attract a variety of new recruits because of the indoor track facility.

Running With The Best

When you say women's track at ASU one name always seems to come to mind, Monika Klebe. ASU's premier female athlete qualified for the NCAA Championships in 1986 and owns four school records indoors. The Lady Indians should have a well rounded team for years to come with versatile runners like Klebe.

The 1988 Indian Staff

If you think putting together a four hundred page yearbook is an easy task, I challenge you to try it. A publication of this size can never materialize into true form without a good staff. The 1988 Indian Staff took a monumental task, page by page, and reduced it to a well polished record of student life at Arkansas State University.

Special thanks goes to Charles Lee and Melonie Knight who spent many long hours insuring that the ASU student was receiving the best quality yearbook. Their search for excellence was always prevalent at each deadline.

Presented on the following pages is the 1988 Indian Staff. Without question, I'm proud of each and every one of them.

Rick Stripling Ph.D.
Assistant Dean of Students
Indian Advisor

In its second year as a part of the Student Government Association's organization, the yearbook has been fully restored as a source of pride for students of Arkansas State University. This is due in no small part to the amount of student interest and participation which is evident from the time the staff is chosen until the time when the books have been distributed.

In close cooperation with office of Student Affairs, the Indian is now under complete student control. Editors for the Indian are chosen by the Student Activities Quality Circle Committee, which is composed of presidents of various student organizations. The yearbook staff answers directly to the Managing Editor who in turn answers to the Student Government Association President and Student Senate.

Since the SGA has taken over the production of the Indian, student interest has risen sharply, with nearly fifty applications accepted for thirteen positions on the yearbook staff. It is my hope that this interest will continue to grow in order to insure that each edition of the Indian will serve as a meaningful remembrance of the time and effort which has been devoted to academic achievements and enhancements here at Arkansas State University.

I commend the efforts of those people who were instruments for placing the responsibility of the production of the Indian where it belongs, in the hands' of the students. I believe that we will all benefit from this move as long as students continue to actively participate in every step of the production process — from selection to distribution.

With the assistance of Dr. Rick Stripling and the Office of Student Affairs, I believe that these past two editions of the Indian have built a strong foundation on which we can continue to grow.

Mark Belk
Student Government Association
President

Yet another year has passed since the Student Government Association has taken over operation of the Indian. This being the second year under the SGA meant that my staff had to meet a challenge of producing a book of equal quality as last years. I feel we have done that. Although there may be some people who feel that this publication does not represent every aspect of Arkansas State University, the staff has done an outstanding job in putting together a four hundred page book. For these students we have overlooked or offended, I apologize. It was not my intention nor the intention of anyone on the staff to purposely misrepresent you.

Though the staff was responsible for putting the book together, there are some people I must mention, for without them, this publication would not have been possible.

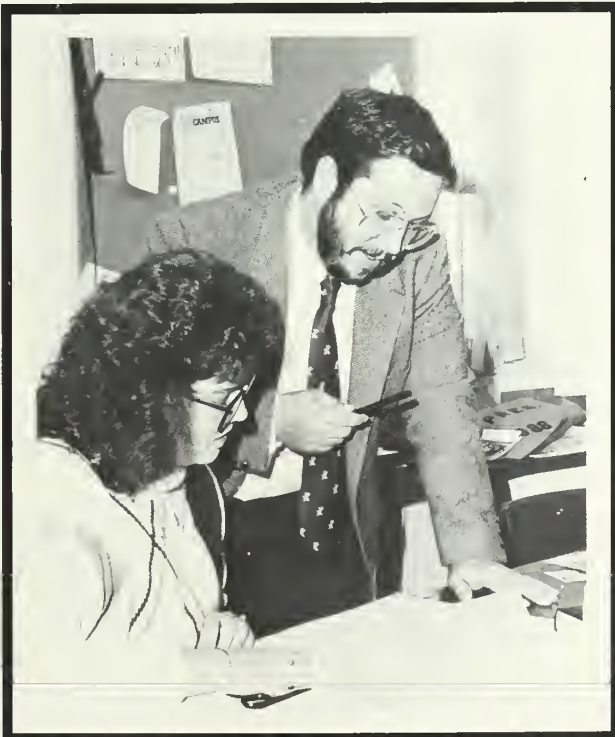

Thanks to:

- Clarice Lovelace. Without her hard work and typing skills, we would have never made it through the class section.
- Tom Moore and all the people in public relations for their information and pictures they gave in a minutes notice.
- Mark Belk and his staff for their continual support throughout the year.

Last, but definitely not least, Dr. Rick Stripling. As the Indian Advisor, he served as no other person ever could. I know that the staff has shortened his life by at least five years, yet his constant demand for quality and excellence has yet to cease.

To the students of Arkansas State, I encourage you to get involved with the Indian. You are the ones responsible for the publication of the Indian. I thank you for giving me the chance to serve ASU as best as I could. Thanks to you!

Charles Lee
Managing Editor, 1988

Melonie Knight, Editor-in-Chief, and Dr. Rick Stripling, Assistant Dean of Students, prepare the finishing touches on the 1988 Indian.
